Convicted Slayer May Escape Chair

Judge To Empanel Jury For Ruby Sanity Trial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby may escape the electric chair if his counsel can convince the jury in a sanity trial that the balding convicted slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald is insane. Judge Joe B. Brown said Monday he will empanel a jury at the first suitable date, in response to a sanity trial request filed by Ruby's sister, Eva Grant.

Texas law requires a judge to hold such a trial if the defense asks for it. Judge Brown presided over the first month-long trial, in which a jury rejected a defense plea that Ruby was insane Nov. 24 when he shot Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Ruby's lawyers said Monday that their client's condition has worsened since his conviction March 14, that his "mind is falling apart" and he has delusions that his crime has brought about a slaughter that will bring death to 25 million American Jews.

If a jury finds Ruby insane, he will be committed to a state institution.

Dr. Louis Jolyon West, psychiatry professor at the University of Oklahoma, testified that Ruby's hallucinations triggered his apparent suicide attempt Sunday. Ruby banged his head against a cell wall, raising a sizable knot.

Judge Brown rejected a defense motion that Ruby be hospitalized for mental treatment. Joe Tonahill, a defense lawyer, said he had to call Ruby's rabbi to calm him after he tried to fight the lawyer earlier Monday.

Dr. West said Ruby "is completely preoccupied with delusions of the persecution of Jews. He feels hopeless, worthless and guilty because he thinks he is to blame for the mass murder of his own people."

It will be up to the defense to prove Ruby's insanity. If they succeed and Ruby is sent to an institution, state doctors could later decide Ruby has regained his sanity but another sanity trial would be required to legally confirm it, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Alexander.

Accuser Also Arrested

Wellsville 'Case' Has New Facets

Further delay of the hearing in Wellsville's police case was the end result of a series of new developments Monday.

The illness of Solicitor William Bush Monday afternoon led to the postponement of a Civil Service Commission hearing slated last night on an appeal filed by John Hephner, who was removed as police chief on April 7.

A thumbnail sketch of the events follows:

Bush underwent an appendectomy at 10:30 this morning at the Osteopathic Hospital.

A new hearing date has been scheduled.

ROBERT R. Logan of Broadway, Wellsville, who has accused Hephner of accepting bribes, was arrested but later released on bond, and

It is unknown who will present the city's case if Bush is unable to attend the hearing. This was the second postponement in the hearing. The first was granted Hephner when one of his attorneys was unable to attend.

Bush took ill at his office yesterday afternoon. He then entered the hospital. He notified those he could before going to the hospital.

Edward M. Welch, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said he learned of the development when he returned home from work about 4 p. m.

Atty. Ben Berman, who is defending Hephner along with Atty. Frank Springer of East Palestine, said he was notified of the postponement about 4:30 p. m.

UNABLE TO notify all of those he had called to attend the hearing, Berman said he went to Wellsville last night.

Hephner was there, along with both his attorneys. A large crowd showed up at City Hall.

Several police officers were on hand, but none of the commission members or Mayor William Daugherty, who removed the chief, attended.

Donald Lowe, clerk, said the commission met last night at the home of Welch on Main St. A new hearing date was set for May 6. This just falls within the 30-day limit required by law. The hearing on an appeal must be held within 30 days after the principal is removed from office.

THE commission said it feels it was only fair to grant the postponement as it already had granted one postponement to Hephner.

If Bush is unable to attend the new hearing, it will be up to the mayor to provide counsel.

Welch notified Berman of the postponement.

In the meantime, Logan, who accused Hephner of taking pay-offs, was arrested at 4:45 p. m. on charges filed by the county juvenile officer at Lisbon.

He is accused of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by permitting minors to loiter in a poolroom. Logan, a former pinball machine distributor, owns the 4th St. Recreation. It was raided over a week ago. He was not cited at that time although another employee was.

ALSO arrested last night was Harry H. (Frosty) Gould, about 58, of 517 Broadway, who

Resignations Of 2 In Coaching Duties Accepted By Board

The resignations of five teachers were accepted and the employment of a new teacher for the 1964-65 term was approved at the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

The resignations of Paul Barbutto, East Junior High teacher and football coach; Mrs. Allene Galloway, Glenmoor instructor; George Schweizer, instrumental music teacher; John Yedgenak, Westgate Junior High instructor, and Blaine Morton, high school teacher and assistant football coach were accepted.

Mrs. Marion Maola, a former teacher in the system, was hired as an elementary vocal music teacher.

The board also approved a requisition for purchase of items under the National Defense Education Act.

The total cost is $7,934. Supt. Paul H. Blair said, with the board's share set at 50 per cent. However, the board's share actually will be approximately $1,300 since various PTA groups and the schools themselves have agreed to pay the remainder. The rental of Westgate cafeteria to the John Washington Chapter 68 of the Order of Eastern Star for a meeting May 17 was approved at a fee of $18 plus custodial time.

The board also agreed to rent a classroom at Westgate to the Field Enterprises Educational Corp. June 8-12 for sales training at a fee of $5 per day.

The rental of Patterson Field to American Legion Post 374 for baseball games was authorized with Blair given permission to work out a schedule with other groups wishing to use the field. No fee was charged.

The post had asked use of the field on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 8 p. m.

Hoffa Shies From Fight With Union

Stirs Speculation He Is Losing Iron Grip On Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa has backed off from a crackling Teamsters Union row over whether the union should continue paying his legal fees, stirring speculation he is losing his iron grip on the Teamsters.

Hoffa, never known for ducking scraps but now beset by troubles with the law, yielded to a demand by one of his vice presidents that the union stop paying the bills until it can be determined whether or not it is in violation of federal law.

Edward Bennett Williams, the Teamsters general counsel who has defended Hoffa in some of his legal battles, is reported to have ruled that the union will be breaking the law if it pays the fees.

Hoffa, according to an aide, made his decision in Chicago where he is on trial on federal charges of misusing $20 million in union pension reserves.

"Mr. Hoffa wants to find out if such payments are legal," said Teamsters Vice President Harold J. Gibbons in St. Louis. "The decision will not be reversed until the legality is upheld by a nationally outstanding authority."

Gibbons, who resigned in December as Hoffa's executive assistant and closest aide, said, "Mr. Hoffa made the decision in view of a request by Teamsters Vice President John J. O'Rourke of New York."

Gibbons denied reports that the funds had been cut off by the union's secretary-treasurer. "It was strictly Mr. Hoffa's decision, until the legal issues are settled," said Gibbons.

River Gauge Promised On Chester Span

The Federal - State Flood Forecasting Service at Pittsburgh has promised to install an Ohio River gauge on a pier of the Chester Bridge with the co-operation of the city and the State Highway Department. Mayor Merrill D. Hall said today.

The promise was given the mayor by Vernon Houghton, chief forecaster of the agency that alerts river towns throughout the area when streams are on the rampage. The mayor said the promise was a result of several requests made to the agency through his office.

Houghton indicated the flood forecasting service will install the gauge if the city will see that a 2-x-12 timber is attached to the downstream side of one of the bridge piers, providing a place for the marker to be attached. Houghton suggested the downstream side of the pier to lessen the damage from floating ice, the mayor pointed out.

As the State Highway Department now administers the bridge, Engineer George S. Bloomgren will contact the state with a request that it erect the timber asked by Houghton, the mayor said.

He pointed out the East Liverpool district has been without an accurate reading on area river levels since the former Dam 8 at Newell was taken out of service with completion.

3-Way Crash On W. 8th St. Hurts Couple

Young Driver Cited After Collision On 'Super-Road' Link

A Klondyke couple escaped serious injury late Monday afternoon when their auto was rammed from the rear in a three-way crash on the W. 8th St. "super-road" stretch near the foot of Lisbon St., police said.

Gus Mautz, 53, of 2214 Harvey Ave., the driver, and his wife, Mrs. Wilma Mautz, 47, were X-rayed at City Hospital for possible whiplash injuries and released.

The collision also involved a 1960 four-door sedan operated by Robert Swiger, 53, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and a 1951 four-door sedan driven by John Jordan, 16, of Lawrenceville, near Chester.

Jordan's car was described as a total loss. There was damage to the entire rear of the Mautz car and all of the front end of the Swiger car, police said.

Police said both Mautz and Swiger were halted for a traffic light when Swiger's car was hit from the rear by Jordan's, shoving it forward into the Mautz vehicle. The Lawrenceville driver was cited into Juvenile Court on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Jordan told Patrolman L. E. Richard he drove off a ramp from the Freeway to W. 8th St., halting for through traffic. He said when he pulled onto W. 8th St. the traffic light was green, but when he looked up a short time later, it had changed to red.

Jordan said he applied his brakes, but was unable to halt in time to avoid the collision. The mishap was timed at 5:26. Police reported three more traffic mishaps Monday afternoon in which no one was injured.

A crash on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." at 2:40 involved a 1954 station wagon driven by Dewey J. Price, 49, of Chester R. D. 1 and a 1960 station wagon operated by Clara Mae Humphreys, 34, of 1722 Alpha St., officers said.

Price told police he was pulling from an auto body shop when the Humphreys auto hit his car. The woman said Price halted, then proceeded.

More Racial Violence Due In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Civil rights leaders promised more demonstrations at a quickened tempo today in the wake of violence that flared when lay-ins tied up traffic on one of Tennessee's busiest thoroughfares.

Ten demonstrators, including three white college students, were jailed Monday after the clash between demonstrators and club-swinging police officers. All were released on bond.

Assistant Police Chief Braxton Duke said the violence started when a leader of the group, Lester McKennie, 23, struck him in the stomach.

McKennie was set upon by several policemen. He was taken to a hospital and treated for scalp cuts and a sprained arm, then charged with assault and battery and disorderly conduct and released under $500 bond. McKennie denied striking Duke.

Attend Board Meeting

Gardendale Parents Seek Explanation On Bus Stop

A group of Gardendale area parents, inquiring about the reasons a morning bus stop on St. Clair Ave. has not been changed to take advantage of a new bus shelter at the Gardendale Ave. intersection, were told last night by the Board of Education that it will furnish an answer at next Monday's meeting.

During the discussion between parents, board members and Supt. Paul H. Blair, John R. Woomer said he believes the parents had a legitimate complaint and the board should give the change further consideration.

Asked the reason the board has opposed construction of the shelters, Woomer said one reason is the company which erected the shelters built only five and the problem was in which neighborhoods to place them.

As the discussion ended, Harry D. McConville, president, said the board would answer a letter from Third Ward Councilman Donald Smith requesting the pickup point be changed and also would reconsider its decision. Smith's letter was read at the meeting April 6 but no action was taken.

Questioned by Albert J. Garvey about when a decision could be expected, McConville said the board has another meeting next Monday night. The parents have been arguing the bus stop should be relocated from in front of the home of Judge Louis Tobin to the point further south on St. Clair Ave. so the youngsters could take advantage of the shelter, especially in rainy weather.

Johnson Gets General Okay Of Chamber

Business To Take Hard Look At His 'Deals' With Labor

WASHINGTON (AP)—If his reception by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce is a reliable indicator, President Johnson has won the general approval of the nation's business community.

But many of those who applauded or laughed 60 times during his hour's rambling discourse before the group Monday obviously are going to take a hard look at Johnson's dealings with the big labor unions before they reach any final political judgments on him.

Johnson's reception by the chamber was an astonishing one. After his speech, one member of the overwhelmingly Republican audience observed:

Three Seek U.S. Senate Nomination

Governor's Stature As Presidential Candidate Eyed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Voters rate Gov. William W. Scranton's stature as a potential Republican presidential candidate in his home state and nominate one of three Democrats for the U.S. Senate in the Pennsylvania primary election today.

The primary ballot lists no presidential possibilities of any party, but Scranton backers, apparently acting on their own, are behind a drive to get an outpouring of write-in votes for the 46-year-old, first-term governor and former congressman.

Scranton backers hope the write-ins will give him added lustre as a potential candidate and cause him to change his repeated stand that he is not a candidate for the nomination and would accept only a sincere and unengineered draft.

Delegates to the national conventions also will be selected. Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said they hoped to pick 6 to 8 of the 54 convention delegates. Scranton has asked for an unplugged delegation, with himself as chairman in a favorite-son role. The 10 at-large delegates already selected have agreed to this.

Also at stake were nominations for 27 congressional seats, two judges of the state superior court, auditor general, treasurer, 209 state house seats, and 25 state senate seats.

There is a three-way fight for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate to face incumbent Republican Hugh Scott, who had only token opposition.

The state Democratic organization backed Justice Michael A. Musmanno, 67, of the State Supreme Court. His main opponent is Genevieve Blatt, 50-year-old state secretary of internal affairs.

The third candidate is David B. Roberts, prothonotary (court clerk) of Allegheny County.

None of the Republican presidential candidate hopefuls campaigned in Pennsylvania. Goldwater forces said anything less than 800,000 write-ins for Scranton should be regarded as a repudiation of him as a presidential candidate.

Craig Truax, state GOP chairman, says he is hopeful of 100,000 write-in votes for Scranton.

There are 2,654,404 registered Democrats in the state and 2,642,779 registered Republicans.

Turnout In Beaver Light For Forenoon

Forenoon voting indicated Beaver County's turnout in the primary may be lighter than had been forecast. Mayor Eli Corak of Midland, county Democratic chairman, which has the largest registration, had said he expected 48 per cent.

No county or local offices were at stake.

A spot check shortly before noon showed voting was "very light."

The polls at the Shippingport Community Building, had recorded eight votes by 11 a. m., four each for each party, while workers at the 2nd District voting place in Industry School had counted only 15 Democratic votes and 14 Republican.

A check at two polling places in Midland showed only 120 votes cast, all on the Democratic ballot.

Most poll workers said they expect a considerable pickup in voter turnout in the afternoon and evening hours. The polls close at 9 tonight.

Tipple Slated For Erection At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Approval of the establishment of a coal tippie operation near the east end of the village was given by Council at a meeting Monday night.

Robert Messmer of the Messmer Coal Co. of near Bergholz was granted permission to proceed with the tippie.

Messmer said the project will be undertaken in three phases, the first to cost about $25,000. The tippie, to be erected in the Pennsylvania Railroad yard area, will be used for loading freight cars and trucks.

The first two phases are to be completed by the end of the year. Council members agreed the operation will be an asset to the village.

In other action, Council took under further study a proposed increase in gas rates and a strip mine proposal for the village dump area.

Harry Temple of the Columbia Gas Co. submitted the request for an 11.9 per cent increase in rates. Eugene Jarvis, acting mayor, asked for a delay on action to consider a report from the Public Utilities Commission.

Ed Wolf, representative of an area coal firm, discussed the original request to strip coal from village property near the dump. He agreed to level the road and maintain it to the dump.

It was pointed out the bridge from Route 39 to the dump would have to be elevated to permit truck travel. Councilman Gillis Earl suggested Wolf prepare a contract and submit it at the next meeting.

Councilman Donald Lewis reported on discussing with Gov. James Rhodes' office the possibility of bringing new industry into the village. Council agreed to work with any citizens' committee interested in such a project.

Purchase of sewer tile for storm sewers was approved. Plans call for buying 20 sections of 12-inch tile and 10 of 8-inch tile for repairs.

Police Chief Roy Lewis reported a total of 1,720 miles patrolled in the past month, two accidents investigated, six arrests made, five tickets issued, 31 dog complaints checked and 22 miscellaneous investigations made.

Solicitor Dwain Yeagley was asked to prepare legislation to raise the minimum wage of laborers from $1.15 an hour to $1.25.

The new members are Mrs. Loretta Everett, United Local, and Mrs. Gladden Watson, Salem schools.

The group discussed class room teaching and report cards and the necessity of enlisting other teachers in the group's profession.

Picking Jury Continues For Hoffa's Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — Selection of a jury continues today in the trial of James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union and seven codefendants on charges they defrauded the Teamsters pension fund of 20 million.

The trial began Monday before U.S. Dist. Judge Richard B. Austin, who warned prospective jurors that the trial may last three or four months and that they will be kept in seclusion between court sessions.

Three panels of 100 veniremen each have been readied for questioning by the battery of defense lawyers and the team of federal prosecutors.

Two jurors were seated Monday, 16 were dismissed for cause and two others were dismissed by peremptory challenge.

The jurors are being watched over by a team of 15 federal marshals brought to Chicago from other parts of the country. No explanation for the unusual precaution was given. Judge Austin denied a request by Maurice J. Walsh, Hoffa's chief counsel, for the names of the deputies.

Hoffa, convicted of jury tampering last month in Chattanooga, told newsmen he would not comment on any matter connected with the trial.

Judge Austin told the prospective jurors that should they be selected they would be permitted to call their families once a day and receive visits from members of their families once a week during the course of the trial.

A 28-count indictment charges Hoffa and seven codefendants with fraudulently arranging $20 million in loans from the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund. Hoffa is a trustee of the fund which has its offices in Chicago.

status applied to other portions of the federally-financed plan.

Before leaving Columbus this morning, Gov. Rhodes notified Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges today that Ohio is joining the program to participate in the development of poverty-designated areas.

Rhodes named Development Director George Wilson as the state representative on the Appalachian Regional Commission directing the program in West Virginia and portions of eight other states.

Ohio officials expressed concern because they said a report to President Johnson by the Appalachian Commission made no mention of funds for Ohio highways.

Maps of Appalachian roads stop at the Ohio border, they added.

The first official American flag, the Continental or Grand Union flag, was displayed on Jan. 1, 1776, in the American lines besieging Boston. It had 13 alternate red and white stripes, with the British Union Jack in the upper left-hand corner.

operator, Blair said he told him the board expected to honor its agreement.

"If we honor one request for a change, then we should honor all other requests," the superintendent said, explaining if the board does decide to change the stop it will be without his recommendation.

Blair said he talked with Councilman Smith and explained the stop will remain where it is for the few weeks remaining in this term, but said it could be considered for next term.

However, he emphasized to the parents that he could not assure that the bus company would agree to the change next year.

Garvey and other parents pointed out the school bus halts in front of the shelter when discharging students and said they were unable to see the reason why the pickup couldn't be at the same point.

The superintendent said the stop was located in front of the Tobin home to avoid blocking the intersection and said in winter months the slight grade enabled the bus to get a start to climb the next grade.

In response to a question from Garvey, Blair said he had not asked Snyder to change the bus stop.

The discussion ended a few minutes later with the board's pledge to respond to the councilman's letter and the indication an answer will be given next Monday night.

The Board of Directors emphasized that the services are available to any county resident. The clinic is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and on Saturday from 8:30 to noon.

Letters asking contributions have gone out to many East Liverpool residents over the mayor's signature. The mailing includes addressed return envelopes in which funds may be sent to the association in care of the mayor's office at City Hall.

The clinic was established in Lisbon on Nov. 15, 1963.

2 Youths, 19, Lose License For Speeding

Two 19-year-old East Liverpool district youths were deprived of their driver's licenses temporarily today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to charges of speeding 80 miles an hour in 50-mile zones of the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super - road."

The defendants are Ricky Glenn Hoppel of Calcutta and Roger William Mays of Substation.

Hoppel was cited at 1:10 a. m. today by the State Highway Patrol. Mays was arrested last Wednesday, also by the patrol.

Hoppel was fined $25 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who also suspended his driver's license for 30 days.

The judge later gave a similar penalty to Mays, but modified it after learning the youth is unemployed. The judge vacated Mays' sentence, explaining he thought the defendant would be unable to pay the fine, and imposed a 60-day license suspension. Mays also was ordered to pay the costs in the case.

The patrol reported when Mays was arrested he explained new tires had been placed on the car and he was driving along the "super - road" to "check them for balance."

A hearing is set May 6 at 9 a. m. for Lawrence E. Bender, 910 Lisbon St., cited by the patrol Monday night at 9:30 on a charge of speeding 70 in a 50-mile zone on the "super-road."

"Maybe not a soul here will vote for him. But he's sure done some damage to Republican campaign contributions."

Another commented: "This fellow is trying to get elected unanimously."

The chamber is historically a poor audience for Democrats. The late Paul Butler, when Democratic national chairman, was booed during one hot debate on government welfare spending.

There was booing again in 1961 when Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., grew angry at the hostile reception he received in a debate with a conservative economist at a U.S. Chamber convention. Clark advised the delegates to "grow up;" he got a storm of derisive jeers.

President John F. Kennedy, in his lone appearance at a chamber session, received little more than polite applause. Although former President Dwight D. Eisenhower never missed addressing the chamber's annual meeting in his eight years in office, the friendly receptions he received never approached the storm of applause that Johnson won Monday.

Warner told police he was pulling from the left lane to the right lane and did not see the taxi. There was damage to a fender on each vehicle.

A mishap on Broadway 25 feet north of E. 5th St. at 3:18 yesterday damaged a 1959 station wagon operated by Amanda C. Merriman, 34, of Wells-ville R. D. 1 and a 1964 two-door sedan operated by Frank L. Kennedy, 23, of 407 Washington St., Newell, officers said.

$150 Blaze Damages East Palestine House

EAST PALESTINE — Damage was set at $150 at a fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Whan, 402 W. Martin St., Monday night at 8:50 p. m.

The family had just moved into the home Sunday. Nineteen firemen answered the blaze which broke out in the upstairs bathroom where one wall, the floor and curtains were damaged.

County GOP Sets Election

The Columbiana County Republican Central Committee will meet Thursday, May 14, at 8 p. m. at St. George's Parish Hall in Lisbon for a re-organization session after election of new members at the primaries next Tuesday. Atty. Charles A. Pike, chairman, announced at a meeting Monday night in Lisbon.

In addition to electing officers, an Executive Committee will be named. The present officers, in addition to Pike, are Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, vice chairman, and Frank R. O'Hanlon of East Liverpool, secretary.

The Lisbon attorney presided at last night's meeting in Lisbon village Hall. Pike announced Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., a congressman-at-large who is a GOP candidate for U. S. senate in the primaries, has been named to speak at the party's annual pre - November election rally which will be held in September at the County Fairgrounds in Lisbon. The meeting will be sponsored by county Young Republican Clubs.

In connection with the May 14 meeting, it was pointed out state law requires the central committees to reorganize not less than six days nor more than 14 days following the primaries in which their new members are elected.

Pike discussed preparations for the primary. A "get-out-the-vote" effort was stressed. O'Hanlon discussed instructions on the order of counting vote returns which have been issued by the County Election Board. He also explained that an elector will have a right to vote on any special question or issue at stake in his subdivision even if he does not desire to participate in a party primary.

A report of outstanding progress in 1963

From all standpoints, 1963 was National Steel's best year since its founding in 1929. Ingot production of 7,164,000 tons and shipments of 5,268,000 tons established new records. Sales were up 13% over 1962, the previous record year, and net income advanced 79%—amply supporting the increase in the dividend rate which was made last December.

Contributing to these results was a general demand for steel at the highest level in recent years and, more important from a long range standpoint, the realization of benefits from a recently completed construction program in which ultra-modern facilities were installed throughout National's operations.

Further progress was made during 1963 including the establishment of a new Service Center Division which gives National Steel an immediate position in three large strategic areas in this important field of steel distribution. Through acquisition of an interest in Concast, Inc., National Steel also gained an advantageous position in the rapidly advancing technology of continuous casting.

Now we are embarking on an extensive new construction program to be completed over the next several years. It will include at Weirton Steel, the first steel mill in history to combine in a single large-scale operation the three major recent advances in steel making—basic oxygen furnaces, vacuum degassing and continuous casting. And at Great Lakes Steel the program will provide the latest developments in hot rolled and cold rolled finishing facilities.

The estimated overall cost of the program is $275,000,000. Its purpose is to maintain National's leading position in steel technology by achieving improvement in service to customers through still further advances in quality, yield and range of product.

Nominations For Congress

Columbiana County voters will join with the rest of Ohio in selecting party nominees for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large in the May 5 primaries.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, incumbent 18th District Congressman, is unopposed on the Democratic ticket for re-nomination, and Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville is without opposition on the Republican ballot for the Congressional nomination.

For U.S. Senator

The Review recommends Robert Taft Jr., Republican, and Stephen M. Young, Democrat.

Mr. Taft, a son of the late famous senator who warmly earned the nickname "Mr. Republican," has a formidable opponent in Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

While Mr. Brown has served long and capably as Ohio's secretary of state, his experience offers no competition with Mr. Taft for a legislative office.

Mr. Taft served a distinguished apprenticeship in the Ohio House and, while his performance as Ohio's congressman-at-large has been somewhat more liberal than the record of his father in the Senate, we believe he is destined for statesmanship of a high order.

With John Glenn out of the race, Sen. Young's most challenging opposition in the primary has been eliminated. The senator has been a loyal supporter of his party's position in almost all legislative matters and on that basis deserves re-nomination.

For Congress-At-Large

We recommend Oliver P. Bolton, Republican, and Robert E. Sweeney, Democrat.

Mr. Bolton, now a congressman for a northeastern Ohio district, has come onto the statewide scene as a capable successor to Robert Taft as congressman-at-large. He has been popular in his own district and has become known widely throughout Ohio.

Mr. Sweeney, a Cleveland lawyer, is a son of a long-time former Cleveland congressman who had some Capitol experience as a youngster as a House employee. He would be a credit to his party's ticket.

Help For Mental Health

The current drive for $20,000 to continue operation of the new Mental Health Clinic at Lisbon is not just a campaign to raise money.

It also serves as test to determine if Columbiana County's residents realize how serious mental and emotional illness is today and how vital is the need to provide for proper treatment on the local level.

Mental illness can rob individuals of full life and achievement of their potential, it can disrupt families, lead to the paths of crime, and effect normal living in hundreds of adverse and hidden ways.

Previously, mental patients had to travel to Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland or elsewhere for treatment, or had to enter specialized institutions.

With the opening of the new clinic last fall, treatment was made available on out-patient basis within 20 miles of any place in the county. No fees are charged, but small contributions are asked.

Use of the clinic has already proven beneficial in aiding people with mental problems which could have grown extremely serious. The clinic should become even more valuable once its role is established in the county and more people become aware of its effectiveness.

Throughout Ohio and the nation, various local, state and federal programs are meeting the problem of mental health.

Columbiana County has made the first important step in its program by establishing the facilities for treatment.

In order to reduce the average of one in ten needing help with a mental problem, the clinic has to be continued.

Your contribution means the clinic will be continued, available for assisting your friends and neighbors and possibly your own family.

Of Course, It's Impossible

Another series of Unidentified Flying Objects had to happen sooner or later.

A policeman of good repute, Lonnie Zamora of Socorro, N.M., says he saw an object on the ground near the White Sands missile range and it flew away when he approached it.

The Southwest always has been a prime location for UFO. Some think it's because the atmosphere there is conducive to optical illusions. Others believe it's because the topography is attractive to pilots of UFO.

Those who believe this are skeptics. They question the conventional wisdom, which holds that in a universe so fast it is unreasonable to believe only one infinitesimal speck sustains intelligent life—the planet its inhabitants call "Earth."

These skeptics are braced for the discovery that inhabitants of other heavenly bodies have been doing routinely what Earthlings hope to do in the near future—travel to other places in the Universe. They seize on every shred of evidence that this may be so, while believers in orthodox wisdom stoutly deny everything

Cow Colleges

It is standard commiseration in my generation to be glad you're not going to college because they wouldn't let you in.

But is it true? I think not.

We mature citizens mean they wouldn't let us in the hotsy-totsy colleges we keep reading about—not the cow colleges we actually attended. The image of education at the college level has changed from practical to ideal.

The ideal image features hand-picked, super-bright youngsters tying into learning as if their lives depended on it, like the total-recall geniuses featured on a TV program called "College Bowl."

It evokes thoughts of white-coated scientists and bespectacled research scholars peering into the secrets of the universe. You can't see the ivy for the glow of knowledge hanging like a halo over the scene.

IT GOES without saying that everyone is there because he was tapped by higher destiny; that he has been chosen from among thousands, like a dalai lama, and never will be like other earth people again.

So much for the ideal image. We could never become part of it. We belonged to another world. It is time to remember that the world we belonged to is still in existence.

In it, people still go to college because they think it would be a nice thing to do. They are not unusually bright. They are not unusually earnest. They are not dedicated. They're just people who want to go to college.

They cannot qualify for scholarships. No one seeks them out to beg them to come to Adorable U. They do not intend to be scientists and destroy the universe. They don't intend to save it, either.

They're run-of-mine people who will be shonkeers, business proprietors and undistinguished employees. They will marry other undistinguished people and have ordinary kids. They do not think there is anything unusual about putting in accaademic time beyond high school. It is not like entering the priesthood.

THEY INTEND to mix education with pleasure. They look forward to a variety of extracurricular activities having no connection with book-learning.

They do not intend to study any harder than will be required to keep them from being dismissed for failure. They have no interest in being scholars. They have no desire to distinguish themselves academically.

They are prepared to grin and bear the mediocrity that is their lot in life. They are thankful for it because the pressure on their bright contemporaries makes them thankful they are dull.

They know when they're well off. There are more places for the likes of them than for the likes of their bright contemporaries who will always be too bright for their own contentment and happiness.

It seems proper to point this out while admitting slyly that we couldn't get into hotsy-totsy hotbeds of higher learning; that the competition would be too fierce for us. So what? It always was. That's how cow colleges stayed in business! Bless them.

Shape Up Or Ship Out!

Johnson Winds Up Election Machine

By Victor Riesel

In a series of small, secret meetings with labor leaders and at White House dinners tendered to them, an amiable, handshaking, embracing, fraternal Lyndon Johnson has been gearing up his election machinery.

One of his off-the-record talks, for example, was with little known, but influential William C. Doherty, ambassador to Jamaica. This conversation was followed by an announcement from the White House on April 8 that the ambassador was resigning effective April 30.

Doherty's resignation was scarcely noticed here—except by insiders who realized the importance of his move.

Johnson had personally telephoned and asked Doherty to come and help him lobby on the Hill for the passage of a new bill which would grant considerable wage increases for Civil Service employees and for congressmen.

WHY DID the President of the U. S. call for help from William C. Doherty, ambassador to a tiny island republic? Because Bill Doherty was president of the AFL-CIO National Association of Letter Carriers for 21 years.

During much of that time he was an AFL and later an AFL-CIO vice president. Over these years, he developed tremendous influence as a congressional lobbyist.

For decades one of his closest friends has been Lyndon Johnson. Together they put through many a law. Doherty was the first labor leader ever to hold a major diplomatic post. He was appointed by John Kennedy. But Mr. Johnson told Doherty he could be far more helpful to the White House in Washington—especially during this campaign year.

So Doherty resigned from his diplomatic post and has been lobbying quietly for the federal pay increase bill which was defeated earlier this year. Insiders are now betting it will pass. The labor lobby will put it over for Mr. Johnson.

THERE HAVE been other recent secret sessions with union presidents—such as the meeting last week with New York State's Liberal party leader, Alex Rose, who also heads the Millinery Union. They discussed New York State politics and the President now believes he can carry the state.

But the President is not neglecting politically important labor leaders who do not generally get into the White House. He's inviting them in by the score.

Last Monday 50 national union presidents, whose headquarters are scattered across the country, received a communication from the White House. Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson were inviting the union leaders and their wives to dinner on May 4 at 7:30 p.m., black tie, etc.

But attacked to the imposing formal invitation was the following note:

"At 7:30 preceding dinner, the President will discuss economic trends with the gentlemen and Mrs. Johnson will receive the ladies."

DURING SUCH off-the-record bull sessions Mr. Johnson is at his best. He speaks more frankly about domestic and international affairs than has any other president. He goes about as far as any chief executive can without actually exposing Central Intelligence Agency secrets.

This is doubly appreciated by the many union presidents who had never been invited to social evenings with the President in previous administrations, though they were always called on to pour money, manpower and car pools into local and national political campaigns.

Some of these labor chiefs didn't even get to the White House during the past decades unless there was a crisis. Typical of those who are now receiving Mr. Johnson's personal attention is Charles Luna, easily the most dominant personality among the leaders of railway unions.

Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (the biggest in the field) told me the other day that "more attention has been paid to him and his colleagues on a personal basis in the last four days than in the last four decades."

WHEN THE RAIL crisis broke a few weeks ago, Luna was in Winnipeg, Canada. The President learned of this and dispatched a small jet to fly him to Washington. Luna was mightily pleased. Mr. Johnson, of course, wants to establish railroad peace in our time, but his own experience in Congress has taught him what few outsiders know—the political power of the railroad brotherhoods and their ability to whip up votes.

These are just a few moments in the recent life of Lyndon Johnson, political leader. There have been many others.

Make no mistake. Mr. Johnson has the labor chiefs with him solidly this early in the campaign.

Cadets at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point receive their entire education at Government expense, and are paid $111.15 per month. From this sum they pay for their uniforms, textbooks, etc. Upon successful completion of the four-year course, the graduate receives the degree of Bachelor of Science and is commissioned a second lieutenant in the Regular Army of the United States.

Russia Breaks Pledge

By David Lawrence

Safety Of U. S. Threatened By Action

An ignominious defeat has been administered to the United States government—a blow to its prestige and influence in world affairs. Russia has deliberately violated a pledge to the American government and once more defiantly threatens the safety of this country.

This turn of events comes as a surprise to the American people, who were being assured by President Johnson only a few days ago that the agreement to limit uranium production was an indication of the peaceful purpose of the Soviet government and that a new wave of good feeling had begun.

But the Russian leopard, it has been disclosed, has not changed its spots. In utter disregard of the resolutions of warning adopted by Congress two years ago, the Soviet government has assumed the right to engage in military operations in this hemisphere that are plainly aimed at the United States.

When the American government demanded in the autumn of 1962 that the Russian missiles and troops be removed from Cuba, the Soviet government promised in an exchange of notes with President Kennedy to remove the missiles and agreed to a system of inspection by the United Nations to verify whether good faith was being observed.

CASTRO — DOUBTLESS with the connivance of the Russians—declined to permit the inspection. Accordingly, the United States reserved the right to continue aerial reconnaissance as a measure of protection to the American people.

More than 600 flights have been made by American planes during 1962 and 1963, and the diplomatic issue as between Russia and the United States States has, outwardly at least, remained dormant. Now Cuba has issued its protest asking the United Nations to support its demand that the American airplane flights be discontinued. Russia immediately announced its concurrence in the Cuban demand.

Thus have the Kennedy and Johnson administrations been grossly deceived by the Soviet maneuvers.

Also, inside the United States a certain amount of brainwashing has occurred and there are even strange suggestions heard in our midst that it would be better to let a few thousand Russian troops or "technicians" remain in Cuba so as to prevent "a trigger-happy Castro" from setting off a military conflict by shooting down American airplanes.

This implies a reliance on the alleged peaceful intentions of the Soviets which is contradicted by the latest events.

The Russian official newspapers, for instance, in articles last Friday—unquestionably inspired by the Moscow government—declared that there is no reason why Russia should not supply Cuba with weapons.

THE FLIGHTS of American airplanes were denounced as violations of Cuban sovereignty and of the U.N. Charter as well as of international law. Yet the U.N. Charter explicitly recognizes regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine.

The controversy is significant mostly because it reveals that, instead of an improvement in Soviet-American relations, there is underneath no letup in the hostility and intrigues of aggression emanating from the Communist regime in Moscow.

The simple truth is that a small country 90 miles away from our shores was militarily strengthened by Russia, as dangerous missile bases were established in Cuba in 1962. When the United States, in self-protection, takes steps to find out if the menace has been removed, this action is construed in Moscow as a violation of international law.

THE RIGHT of self-defense and the adoption of precautionary measures against attack is inherent, of course, in the sovereignty of every country, and there was no justification in international law or in the U.N. Charter for the original dispatch of 1,000 troops to Cuba by the Soviet government or the construction of missile bases on an island more than 4,000 miles away from Soviet territory. The only object of such an expedition was to threaten the safety of the American people.

This flagrant violation of international rules has been further aggravated by the manifest dishonesty and immorality of the government in Moscow, which pretended in its notes to the late President Kennedy to be willing to agree to international inspection of Cuban missile bases and now goes back on its word. Under the circumstances, aerial reconnaissance by high-flying planes is inevitably the right of the United States government.

THE NET RESULT of the whole controversy could be to convince the American people that further parleys on "disarmament" with the Moscow regime can hardly be risked and that any agreements signed will not be worth the paper on which they are written so far as compliance by the Soviet government is concerned.

An Appeal To All

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON President Johnson, sailing high with increasing confidence in himself and his campaign to be all things to all people, has just given a masterful performance and a great insight into how he is going about it.

In his speech to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Monday he pulled out all the stops, touching each listener, and each reader later, with appeals to the various motivations of a man in the American society today.

There was something in it for the rich, the poor, for conservatives, for liberals, for the sick, the old, the untrained, and the young ambitious.

What he said Monday and how he said it—since he is going to run for election in November—can be taken as the key to the directions his political campaign will take, and how he'll handle it.

He appealed to his listeners' desire for frugality in government and their own desire to make money; to their desire for peace and at the same time for military security; to their humanity, their compassion, and their patriotism.

It was all there but he was careful, although you might not notice the various transitions, to humanize himself in the process by shifting from soaring sentences to homey phrases and homely images, like the old house where he was born.

The implication he got across was that what he could do any American could do in his rise from humble beginnings to the White House—if he had the chance. And he was asking everyone to pitch in to help everyone get the chance.

Thus the picture of Lyndon Johnson which emerged from all he said—modestly, as if in passing, but certainly intentionally—was that of an American epic which didn't have to be unique.

In short, he made the widest kind of appeal to the greatest number of people for he knew far more people would be reading later what he said than could be jammed together to hear him Monday.

The chamber members and their wives at the end gave him such a prolonged, standing ovation that he had to take what amounted to two curtain calls. Twice he had to return to wave thanks.

Some of the techniques—The homely phrase: "You can go home and tell your friends that you have an independent, taxpayin', light-bulb-savin' President in the White House."

Patriotism: "I believe this strong and this rich and this successful nation can bring peace to the world and I believe it so strongly I am going to work for it and fight for it and I hope I get it."

The homely image: "I have a little house where I was born, the son of a tenant farmer, a picture of which is hanging up in my bedroom (in the White House), because every night when I go to bed and every morning when I wake up, I call it the 'opportunity house.'"

He didn't quite follow the advice he quoted from George Washington: "Let your discourse with men of business be short and comprehensive." Johnson's speech wasn't short but it was comprehensive.

Hephner

also was charged with contributing by permitting a minor to loiter in a poolroom. He is a second employee at the 4th St. Recreation.

Both affidavits were picked up and signed at Juvenile Court in Lisbon by Patrolman Robert Wellington yesterday.

Logan posted $300 bond at the Wellsville police department of office shortly after his arrest. Gould was unable to make bond and was held overnight at the County Jail in Lisbon. He posted bond this morning.

Hephner was ousted by Mayor Daugherty on an affidavit signed by Logan.

The mayor specifically charged him with "misconduct of office" by accepting money in return for favors.

The accused was not revealed publicly until Saturday.

It had been general knowledge that Logan was involved in some manner.

HEPHNER, a 22-year veteran of the department, has emphatically denied the charges. He immediately filed for a hearing before the commission.

If his removal is upheld, he then can and has said he will, carry the appeal to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Hephner filed a letter with the mayor asking for a "bill of particulars" on the charge against him. This was not answered.

Adding to the confusion in the case, City Council has adopted a formal motion asking Bush to file a suit against Richard N. Lloyd, a member of the Civil Service.

The question of his politics is involved. Lloyd says he is Republican, making him the minority member of the commission. Others claim he is a Democrat, making the entire commission illegal.

THE ATTORNEY general's office has refused to rule. State officials said the only solution would be to take the matter to court.

In order to do this, someone or some group has to specifically charge Lloyd with being Democrat. Council did this at its last meeting.

Donald Miller is the third member of the commission. Both he and Welch are Democrats.

Mayor Daugherty said Saturday that Logan has taken a lie detector test which has allegedly upheld his testimony. He requested Hephner to take the test, but never received an answer from the officer.

In the previous poolroom arrest, the owner pleaded guilty and was fined yesterday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and another pleaded innocent and his hearing was set for May 7. Terry Thompson of Main St., owner and operator of the Thompson Poolroom, 1745 Main St., was fined $100 for allowing minors to loiter in his poolroom and $100 for playing tong — a card game for money — with juveniles.

tion of the Stratton "super-dam."

Readings used in recent floods were principally from the Stratton Dam and the Montgomery Island Dam at Ohio View, but the figures could not be related accurately to past flood experience here.

"This new gauge will give us accurate readings and allow us to use the flood forecasting figures much more intelligently," the mayor said. "It will be in a prominent spot where the public will be able to watch the water's rise and fall."

He said there is no gauge now between Stratton and Emsworth.

Gas Concern Installs

New Main On St. Clair

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. has started work on a $54,094 project for relocation of more than a mile of its mains on St. Clair Ave. between Mayberry Ln. and Princeton Ave., H. R. Sneddon, district manager, said today.

The new line's diameter ranges up to 10 inches. Wirt & Starn, Inc., of Wooster, the contractor, expects to complete work by May 15. It's the second St. Clair Ave. district project of the company this spring. Another involving over $21,000 was launched several weeks ago.

Designed to provide adequate service for future growth, the new main replaces two smaller lines. It is in the section of St. Clair Ave. scheduled for rebuilding, Sneddon pointed out.

on Wednesdays and Fridays from 4 to 6 and each Sunday starting June 5 and continuing through Aug. 23.

Blair said he had contacted Wayne Craig, post baseball chairman, and would work out a schedule between the Legion and the City - County Baseball League which also is seeking use of the field.

In response to a question concerning Sunday use, Blair said Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper has drawn up a permit to be used which specifically forbids any contributions, collections or charges directly or indirectly and also bans the sale of food, soft drinks or liquor.

The permit specifies that any violation would bar future rental to the sponsoring organization.

The board had approved Sunday use of the field but had asked the solicitor to draw up an agreement to protect the board. The deed to the tract prohibits any charge or contribution for Sunday events.

A letter from Post 374 thanking the board for making Veterans' Day a legal holiday next term also was read.

The board also received a letter from the East Liverpool Teachers Association declaring the association is "firmly behind" the board and administration with regard to proper use of sick leave allowance.

However, the ELTA said it feels the overwhelming majority of the teaching staff respects and appreciates the provisions of the sick leave allowance.

The letter also said the ELTA believes in teaching of patriotism and the American heritage "through a meaningful observance of American holidays." It was signed by Mary Ruth Bebout, corresponding secretary.

The board also voted to send a letter to sponsors of the Colt Baseball League for making the field available for high school games.

Harry D. McConville, president, announced the appointment of Richard Smith, who assumed his duties as a board member April 6, as a member of the building committee. The other member is John R. Woormer.

Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, reported a balance of $29,835 in all school funds. The financial statement showed a deficit of $44,085 in the general fund, $319 in the workbook account and $34 in custodial training.

The balances include $54,510 in bond retirement, $6,424, lunchroom; $2,212, improvement; $397, night schools, and $10,729, repair and maintenance.

Woman Blames Mate For Injuries To Face

A 28-year-old East End woman was treated at City Hospital early today for injuries of the face which she said were suffered when her husband struck her.

Mrs. Nancy Reight, 403 Mulberry St., was released after treatment for lacerations of the left lower lip and a contusion of the right temple.

Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr. was dispatched to investigate at 1:54 after the hospital advised headquarters a woman on Mulberry St. was calling for police. He said he found her bleeding from "a bad cut" below the lip. The officer said the woman related her husband

"came home and beat her." Edward Reight, identified as the woman's husband, was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court when he was convicted of disorderly conduct by using "indecent language and profanity." Officer Burson testified he cited the husband when returning the wife to her home after treatment at the hospital.

WHY WASTE GASOLINE!

Sohio has found in test fleets that a dirty carburetor can waste as much as one gallon of gasoline in a tankful!

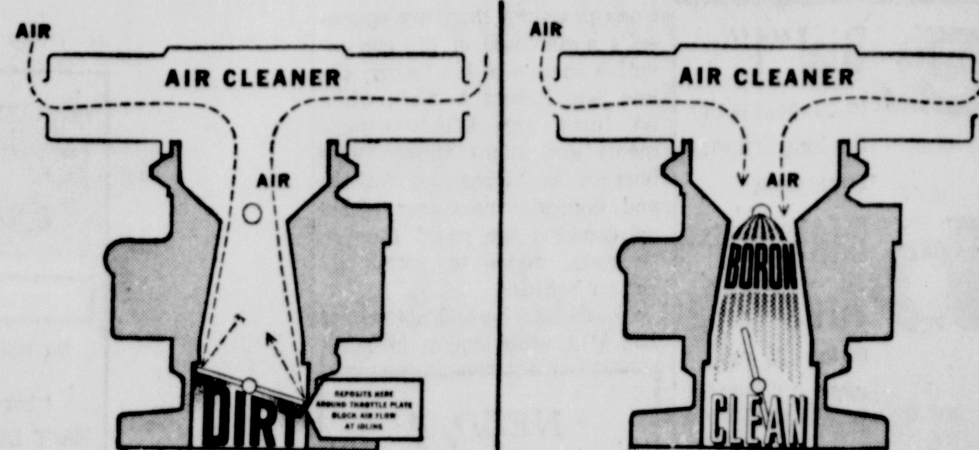

When dirt deposits like these form around your carburetor's throttle plate, they can interfere with the operation of your carburetor, causing gasoline waste!

To remove gasoline-wasting deposits from your carburetor, with its special Carburetor Cleaner!

USE BORON®

HOW CARBURETORS CAN GET DIRTY AND WASTE GASOLINE

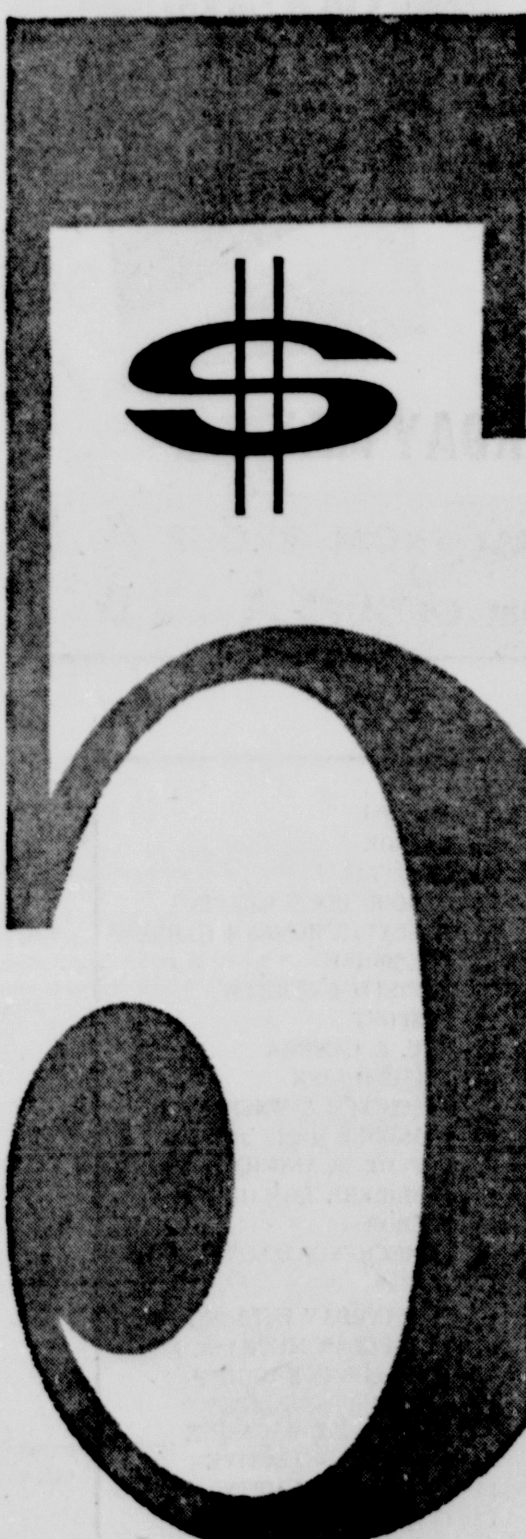

When air enters your carburetor, it contains dirt particles that are too tiny to be trapped by your air cleaner. These particles can stick to the carburetor walls around the throttle plate and build up hard deposits. These deposits can block the air flow to your engine at idling. Your gasoline-and-air mixture can get "too rich." Your engine gets too little air, uses too much gasoline. This is gasoline waste!

HOW BORON REMOVES GASOLINE-WASTING DEPOSITS

A special Carburetor Cleaner has been added to Boron Gasoline. This special Carburetor Cleaner dissolves the dirt deposits and washes them away. Because the deposits are hard, the cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a clean carburetor—and no gasoline waste due to carburetor deposits! So don't let carburetor deposits cause your gasoline-and-air mixture to become "over-rich" and waste gasoline! Always use Boron with its special Carburetor Cleaner!

Junior Chamber Sets Election For May 25

Plans for three future events were outlined at a membership meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The annual election of officers will be May 25 at the hotel. Robert Lewis, nominating committee chairman, said the slate is about completed.

The election is one of the highlights of the Jaycee year.

The annual inaugural ball will be June 5 at The Willows near Industry. Jack Hales said the Jaycee Week observance and the observance of the 25th anniversary of the East Liverpool unit will be held in conjunction with the ball.

Past Jaycees will be invited to attend.

Hales, a life member, inducted Joe Wells, Bob Bickie, Kenneth Rogers and Ron Gibbs as new members.

Richard Chadwick, president, reported on correspondence with the Community Improvement Corp.

Larry Walton, chairman, said arrangements are nearly complete for the post-prom party to be held at Westgate School following the annual dance at the Memorial Auditorium.

Rocky Corbisello and Keith Goodman reported on the sale of hammers. Vince Laneve, Home Show chairman, said the attendance totaled 6,045. Dale Kidd reported on the Region 8 meeting at Dover. Ten attended. Lewis was elected a district vice president.

Peter Lamarra was a guest. Lewis announced the state convention will be May 15-17 at Cincinnati, hosted by the Northern Hills Jaycees.

Don Eckert and Don McGillivray discussed the city's master plan. Eckert, a member of the City Planning Commission, said the group probably will be seeking help from groups and individuals when the plan is approved in Washington.

Robert Conroy reported on the investigation into the possibility of having a resident doctor at City Hospital.

Joe Coones was program chairman. Walton screened a movie on the life and success of Earl Nightingale, a noted millionaire and radio personality.

Mishaps Hurt 6 In District

A woman injured on a fish hook and another scalded by hot food were among six area residents treated Monday at City Hospital.

A fish hook was removed from the fourth finger of the left hand of Mrs. Pearl Fickel, 814 Riley Ave., last night.

Mrs. Shirley Slaughter, 469 14th St., Wellsville, suffered scalds of the left wrist and forehead from hot chili.

Patricia Brennen, 17, daughter of Mrs. Helen Brennen, 211 W. 5th St., received a fracture of a toe when stepped on in a gym class.

Mrs. Mable Smith of 18 Midway Ln. was treated for an injury of a finger in which a particle of a sewing machine needle apparently became lodged.

Allan Snyder, 18, son of Marvin Snyder, 563 Indiana Ave., Chester, was treated for injuries to the left thumb when caught in a sander at home.

Jeffrey Bigelow, 5, son of Graham Bigelow, 1246 Oakwood Ave., received an injury to the left hand when caught in a wringer.

Man In Hunger Strike Slated For Trial Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The trial of a Mayfield Heights merchant, staging a hunger strike to protest his arrest for allegedly violating the Sunday closing law, was set for today instead of May 11.

David Krause, 44, has refused food and water and spurned offers to be released on bond since his arrest Sunday, police reported. He was one of four merchants taken into custody and vowed not to eat until his trial.

Cases of the others, all free on bond, are set for May 11.

Since being jailed around noon Sunday, Krause has turned down five meals, including some hot ones, according to law director Robert B. Krupansky.

Krause, reportedly under treatment for tuberculosis, sent six years in a Nazi concentration camp during World War II. He has branded the Mayfield Heights ordinance as unfair because businesses in surrounding communities can remain open on Sunday.

Brown Flips Charge Back To His Opponent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has tossed the charge of "ambidextrous politician" back to his opponent for the Republican U.S. Senatorial nomination, Robert Taft Jr.

The term was first applied to Brown by a Taft aide who said Brown was running this campaign as a conservative, yet was endorsed for secretary of state in 1958 by the liberal Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

"Where can you find a clearer illustration of ambidextrous practices than my opponent's assumption of the conservative mantle of his father, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, while he flirts with leftist experiments and aligns himself with liberals in voting for foreign and domestic measures which no conservative could espouse or even begin to stomach," Brown asked.

Brown said he had not sought the ADA endorsement in 1958.

Pastor, Lay Leader Make Plea

Methodist Church Urged To Eliminate Segregation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Methodist Church is under appeal from a Philadelphia minister and a lay leader to eliminate racial segregation.

The two speakers asked Monday that the 900 delegates at the 1964 General Conference rid the church of the Central Jurisdiction.

The conference, which convenes every four years to set policy for the 12-million member church, opened Sunday in Pittsburgh's modernistic Civic Arena for a two-week session.

The Rev. Robert A. Raines, pastor of the integrated First Methodist church of Germantown, said in a sermon that "God clearly is calling Methodists in 1964 to eliminate the racial cancer of the Central Jurisdiction from its body."

The Central Jurisdiction is a separate division of the Methodist Church which is composed of 375,000 Negroes.

Abolishment of the jurisdiction and the merging of its conferences with white conferences is one of the top issues to be considered during the meeting.

Dr. W. Astor Kir, a Negro and a layman serving on the General Board of Christian Social Concerns in Washington, told newsmen that the church should not stop with eradication of the Central Jurisdiction.

The church should "abolish all other forms of segregation all the way down to the local church level," he said.

Mrs. Mock Says She'd Like To Be An Astronaut

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Jerrie Mock, the Ohio housewife who made the first solo flight around the world, says she would like to be an astronaut.

But, she adds, "there are many, many qualified women who could do it."

The Columbus aviatrix, here Monday to visit the Bendix Radio Division, which made the seven-pound automatic direction finder that guided her in her flight, said she made the flight to prove several things.

"One was that light planes are safe," she said. "It's silly to think they aren't."

She said she also wanted the talents of women to be recognized, and "I also hope that this may make it easier for women to travel alone, without people wondering about motives."

Mrs. Mock flew her single-engine Cessna 22,858 miles in 29 days.

The Gospel of Matthew and the Acts of the Apostles in the New Testament each contain 28 chapters.

Reds Down U.S. Copters; 2 Of Fliers Wounded

DO XA, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrilla ground-fire downed two U.S. helicopters and a South Vietnamese fighter plane today in a government assault on guerrilla mountain positions here. Two American airmen were wounded.

The biggest toll was among the Vietnamese troops riding in the helicopters to tiny landing zones near a Communist base. Eleven of them were killed by groundfire.

A total of 15 of nearly 40 Vietnamese and American helicopters were hit by ground fire as an operation was launched into the mountainous provinces of Quang Ngai and Kontum.

A Vietnamese fighter plane crashed near the command post after ground fire damaged the engine. The pilot was seriously injured.

Two other helicopters crash landed because of engine trouble, but no casualties were reported.

Judge Hits Juror Poll

Sharp Urges Against Daniels Parole In Murder

Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court, critical of contacts made with jurors who convicted Clinton Daniels in an East Liverpool murder, has sent objections to Gov. James Rhodes and the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission against any early release of the former city man now serving a life term for the 1935 Christmas Day slaying.

However, the two letters may serve only to buttress the commission, which in March declined to "review at this time" any parole recommendation, denying a request of the governor to hold a "clemency hearing" which could have led to Daniels' release from the Marion Correctional Institute.

WORLD WAR II veterans groups in Akron have been trying to win Daniels' release for his war record.

"Daniels, along with Dudley Adams and Burl Rogers, had been drinking the night of Dec. 24, 1935, and they armed themselves with revolvers and decided to go out and rob someone," the judge's complaint related.

"They were in Rogers' automobile, and observed a milk wagon and while it was on Thompson Ave. Burl Rogers drove onto Fawcett St., and parked his automobile while Adams and Daniels got out of the car and went back to the milk wagon.

"They demanded of Frank Dickey that he give them a case of milk. When he did not respond quickly enough Clinton Daniels cursed him and advised him that he meant business. Frank Dickey then threw a milk bottle at Clinton Daniels and Clinton Daniels fired a shot which struck him in the elbow. Almost immediately after Clinton Daniels had fired this shot, Adams fired a shot which struck Clarence Dickey in the abdomen and he died a short time later as a result of this wound.

"NATURALLY the citizens of East Liverpool and particularly John Eiferd, owner and operator of the Golden Star Dairy, were incensed at this vicious, brutal murder on Christmas morning.

"Adams was apprehended shortly after and was tried. He was definitely of inferior mentality but he was not insane in the sense that he did not know the difference between right and wrong. The jury convicted him of murder in the first degree and recommended mercy. He served 20 years and has been released.

"Rogers and Daniels fled the area. Rogers was located a year or so later and was tried and convicted. The jury also recommended mercy in his case. He was sent to the penitentiary where he died.

"Daniels was not apprehended for some time. He enlisted in the United States Army under the assumed name of Albert Jones. He served in the Pacific Area and his service record was good. The unit received a citation. Prior to the commission of the murder he had been in some trouble and his fingerprints were on record.

"I DO NOT know just how his finger prints were brought to the attention of the authorities but, after his discharge, it was discovered that Albert Jones was in reality Daniels. He was apprehended in Akron and returned to Columbiana County Nov. 6, 1945."

Judge Sharp pointed out that the trial took place in Columbiana County almost exactly 10 years after the murder. He appeared at the trial in his uniform, although at that time he had been released from military service and his military record was presented by his attorney at the time of the trial, but he was convicted of murder in the first degree and the jury recommended mercy.

"Let me say at this time that there is absolutely no doubt of Clinton Daniels' guilt. The jury did a careful, conscientious job and the verdict it returned was amply supported by the evidence.

"Sometime in December of 1963 or January of 1964 two men contacted me while I was having lunch. These men were, I believe, a Mr. Katzbauer, a writer for the Akron Beacon Journal, who was preparing an article on behalf of Daniels, and Tom Kilroy, who has been leading an effort to have Daniels paroled before he has served at least 20 years.

"THESE MEN asked me, if I did not believe that it would be all right, in view of Mr. Daniels' military service for his country, to have him released now rather than two years later. I advised them that I thought he should serve at least 20 years, that it was little enough for the crime he had committed.

"I later learned that these men were contacting the jurors who had served in the Daniels case and I also learned that the jurors did not appreciate this. I thereupon had our investigator and probation officer, Richard Rose, make an investigation of their activities and his report is furnished to you.

"You will note in the report that practically all of the jurors contacted felt that the trial was an ordeal, that they had done the best they knew how, and that the matter should be closed as far as they were concerned. Some of the lady jurors were disturbed by being contacted.

"AS YOU MUST know, it is not an easy job to get people to sit on a murder jury and that such a duty is a hard and disagreeable one. When the jurors have made their decision they should not be troubled about it again and, particularly, as some of the jurors reported to Mr. Rose, it is not their duty to enter further into the matter of punishment beyond the recommendation of mercy.

"I do not object of Mr. Daniels' 'buddies' attempting to convince the parole board, to release Daniels prior to 20 years on account of his military record. But I do object to their bothering the members of the jury about it. They have done their full duty in the case. I also objected to their telling the members of the jury they contacted that I was not opposed to his immediate release. That was exactly the opposite of what I did tell them. I think it took unmitigated gall to contact Frank Dickey, who has been crippled by Daniels and whose brother was killed in the attempted robbery, and try to get him to recommend mercy.

WHEN JURIES were first given the right to recommend mercy in first degree murder cases, if they did so it actually meant life imprisonment. To whittle that down to 20 years is going pretty far.

"I do not believe that it should be cut one bit less than that, even if Mr. Daniels' military service is credible, but it is no more than millions of American boys performed in the Second World War. The man killed, Clarence Dickey, was a trained Marine and in all probability would have been much more use to his country than was Daniels."

Judge Sharp asked the Parole and Pardon Board to consider this in deciding whether or not Daniels should be released before serving his 20 years. And he asked Gov. Rhodes to leave the matter with the parole board and not intervene.

Rockefeller Sets Tour In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Republican Nelson Rockefeller will make a flying campaign tour of West Virginia Thursday and Friday, trying to drum up a good May 12 primary election vote for his presidential candidacy even though he is unopposed.

The New York governor currently is campaigning in Oregon where the winner of the presidential primary three days after West Virginia's can pick up 18 Republican National Convention delegates.

Much less is at stake for Rockefeller in West Virginia. He is running alone here and this state's presidential preference voting in no way ties up convention delegates.

However, a comparison between the Rockefeller vote May 12 and the vote for state GOP candidates should at least give some indication of his voter appeal in the state.

Present plans call for Rockefeller to begin his West Virginia swing in the coal-mining counties in the extreme southern part of the state, long a Democratic stronghold. Mal Guthrie of Charleston, state Rockefeller-for-President chairman, said it would be the first visit by a GOP presidential candidate to this area since 1924.

Rockefeller is expected to fly into Bluefield late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning and begin his jam-packed itinerary from there. He is expected to use helicopters and conventional planes in effort to reach as many West Virginia points as possible in the two days.

The tentative Thursday schedule calls for appearances in Bluefield, Welch, Beckley and Logan — with possibly a coal mine sidetrip along the way — before he winds up in Charleston late Thursday afternoon.

His activities in Charleston will include an appearance before a 7 p. m. meeting Thursday of West Virginia members of The Associated Press. This will include a brief speech, followed by a question-and-answer news conference session.

Rockefeller's Friday itinerary tentatively includes Parkersburg, Wheeling, Bethany College, where he will speak at a political forum; Clarksburg and Morgantown. In Morgantown, last stop on his state tour, he will be the main speaker at West Virginia University's annual Law Day observance.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

DEAR HELOISE: I just discovered a new trick — new to me, anyway.

To wit — connect your plastic garden hose to the bottom of your HOT water heater and drain the heater. Then proceed to unsnarl the kinks and knots in your synthetic hose, stretching it out to its full length.

Now disconnect the hose from the water heater, coil it and put it back into its original storage place.

So . . . you have killed two birds with one stone. First you have drained off the sediment from the bottom of your hot water tank, which should be done once a month anyway. Second, the hot water softens the plastic hose and makes it pliable and in a manageable again. Leave garden hose stretched completely out before re-coiling.

MR. R.

Ladies, if you will look on your hot water heater you will see (perhaps for the first time) that directions do say "Drain this tank every month or two."

Draining keeps hot water heaters from rusting out and perhaps might save your budget because you won't have to buy another one if you follow the directions on the heater. Right now go and look at your hot water heater and see what the directions say. Sure would be nice to use the money (you might have spent on repairs) for something else. Eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When the middle of my cotton sheets wear out, I cut off the top and bottom and sew them on the ends of our flannel sheets, thus making them long enough to tuck in at the end and foot.

This sure keeps those short flannel sheets in place.

JENNIE GUZZETTA.

DEAR HELOISE: With a family of young children, I discovered a way to use up those small pieces of leftover soap: Here's what I did:

I took a wash cloth, turned down about one-half-inch hem at top, then sewed up the other two sides. I then ran a tape through the hem for the drawingstring. Presto, a small bag!

I hang this bag on the faucet of the bath tub and put all small pieces of soap into it. When reasonably full, I tie the tape, but still keep it on the faucet. It scrubs the little ones clean and saves soap and the children just love to use this bag of soap pieces.

MARTHA.

DEAR HELOISE: Some of your readers have asked for idea for the use of old nylon stockings. I give mine to a friend who uses them for quilt stuffing! I'll bet they wash and dry nicely.

MARY JOHNSON.

I would not take your bet. YOU would win!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I place my pastry board across the wash basin when cleaning out my medicine cabinet. I find it a very handy table to hold all those bottles and jars while I'm cleaning the cabinet.

MRS. D. VIGO.

DEAR HELOISE: I had some faded artificial flowers. I sprayed them with gold paint (and some silver spray paint) and used them for ornaments.

These gold artificial flowers are very cute for decorating gifts. They could also be pinned on a curtain for added beauty.

Ohio Family En Route For Visit In Moscow

AMSTERDAM (AP)—The McKenzie family of Portsmouth, Ohio, had a brief but busy stopover in the Dutch capital today en route to visit the Moscow family who were their houseguests last Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. McKenzie and their son Philip, 14, spent their four-hour stopover on a tour of the city, noted for its many canals and bridges.

The Ohioans are making their first trip abroad. They said they were "excited and looking forward" to the 10 days they will spend in the Moscow home of Mr. and Mrs. Viktor Pozdnev.

Pozdnev, 36, an automotive engineer; his wife Nina, a high school English teacher, and their children, Anatoly, 16, and Olga, 6, spent eight days with the McKenzies at Christmas. The goodwill visit was sponsored and financed by the Portsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Russian family's American Christmas was a big event in Portsmouth, and Pozdnev told Moscow newsmen "the whole city was astonishingly kind and friendly." He said the McKenzies treated them "just like members of the family."

McKenzie, a 34-year-old insurance broker, said he and his family will view the Russian May Day celebration and hope to visit the Kremlin, Lenin's Tomb and a ballet performance. He said they are particularly excited about seeing how the Russians live and learning about their culture.

The McKenzies, who left four younger children with relatives, said they got the invitation from the Pozdnevs last Tuesday and thought about it overnight before accepting.

Before the Pozdnevs left Portsmouth, McKenzie said, "They said that they wanted to visit them and to see Russia but at the time we thought it was just small talk and that it would be impossible."

They have several gifts for the Pozdnevs, including cosmetics, dolls, jewelry and clothing. The Russian family brought the McKenzies a table cloth, jewel box, chocolates and a clock shaped like a Sputnik space satellite.

Patience Required

European Traveler Can Find Some Antique Buys

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Features Writer

Most travelers to Europe seek treasures of some sort, novelty souvenirs or sizeable investments. It's important to know where to go for what, says Alfred Lowden, long-time antiques expert.

Lowden, who was antiques buyer for a large New York store for 34 years, visited some old haunts and found some new ones. His verdict: Europe is no longer a treasure trove. But you can find a bargain still, if you have patience, a good eye and perspective. He explains:

"Shop carefully and don't buy the first thing you see. Europe is high and things are more limited than they were even a few years ago. If you see something you like and the price seems too high, plan to write for it if you can't find it elsewhere cheaper or they don't run after you when you leave the store."

France

In Paris there is the Flea Market and the Swiss Village, ideal for neophytes. These antiques centers are open for a couple of days each week. Dealers comb the countryside, gather what they can, and save you the trouble of finding wayside places, he points out.

Some people take the breathtaking road to the Riviera, Cannes and Monte Carlo, visiting the antiques shops along the way. Lowden bought a small painting by Miquel, the new popular painter, for $90, put it under his arm and was offered $250 some moments later by another antiques dealer. He found a beautiful old lute for $4 and some unusual baskets.

Portugal

In Lisbon there are wonderful embroideries from the Madeira Islands, pottery, painted furniture. Some rural sections still use pottery molds of the Phoenicians. You can find old English furnishings in Portugal, he points out, because they were historically, politically, socially related to the English.

There were English colonies aware, who became the parents of a daughter Friday.

Mrs. Ella Hickman and daughter of Youngstown spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Groubert spent the weekend at Guilford Lake. Among their visitors there Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Lynch of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. David Groubert of New Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bender visited at Lake Sha-Vel Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nelson of East Liverpool visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bender, over the weekend.

Miss Nancy Crook of Canton visited here on the weekend.

Lester Webber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Webber, left Friday for Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

When you are making a tossed salad, count on a cup of greens for each portion even when there are such extra additions as cucumber.

21 Attend Meeting Of Class Of Church At East Fairfield

Twenty-one attended a meeting of the Friendship Class of the East Fairfield Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at the Fellowship Hall.

The Joy Circle of the WSCS met Monday night with Mrs. Lois Peppel. Mrs. Winifred Gorbey was co-hostess.

The fourth-quarter conference of the Methodist Church will be held Wednesday night at 7:30. A "Children's Day" program will be presented Sunday.

The annual mother-daughter banquet of the church will be held May 13.

Planning Step Outlined For Hancock Use

NEW CUMBERLAND — The State Attorney General's Office at Charleston has ruled out a proposal to combine the planning commissions of Hancock and Brooke counties and the City of Weirton.

But the opinion did outline a plan which would allow the three planning agencies to work together on common development and zoning problems.

According to the opinion written by Asst. Atty. Gen. Claude A. Joyce, each commission would remain legally independent of the other, but could appoint subcommittees to coordinate plans for development of the entire area.

The opinion adds that the city of Weirton could maintain its own planning commission as staff, or, because the city is largely within Hancock County, could form a joint planning commission with Hancock County.

If both Weirton and Hancock County maintain separate commissions, the opinion states, either the county or city could designate the other commission to act for it in planning matters.

Each planning commission will be required to finance its own costs, the opinion adds.

The opinion was requested by Acting State Commerce Commissioner Koder Collison.

Italy

If you have a good eye, you might spot the Renoir of today in Italy, says Lowden. On the Via Margutta in Rome, near the Spanish steps, are Greenwich Village style shops and street fairs specializing in little bits of carving, pottery, porcelain, attractive wall brackets, modern art.

There are carvings, porcelains, paintings on glass, and a Sunday morning flea market on the Via Portuense that sometimes offers junk, but more often excellent copper utensils, old books, and good early maps.

Bologna, too, has wonderful antique shops but prices have gone up. There are grand furnishings too, at Georgini's Galleries in Florence, including fabulous art.

England

Look for good English silver, Sheffield, reproductions of porcelains. Brompton Road in London is good for paintings on glass, crystal and pewter.

Cottswold is noted for oak and copper and Sussex for mahogany. Bargains are few, but that makes it fun if you find something wonderful, Lowden advises. There's a chance because not everyone wants what you want.

Spain

Look for brass in Spain. In one section, Rastro, near Madrid there are blocks of booths and shops with auctioneers sitting on blankets selling wares they've collected — braziers (people want them for homes), wrought iron work (like iron from old balconies), wood work, Spanish doors, tables, coffers, chests, ecclesiastical things, paintings, candlesticks, hand loomed rugs, bedspreads.

"And they don't want the first price they ask," says Lowden, it's part of the system to bargain."

France

In Paris there is the Flea Market and the Swiss Village, ideal for neophytes. These antiques centers are open for a couple of days each week. Dealers comb the countryside, gather what they can, and save you the trouble of finding wayside places, he points out.

For Elementary Buildings

Pre-School Registration Will Be Conducted May 6

The annual pre-school registration for all East Liverpool children planning to enter first grade next fall will be held Wednesday, May 6, in the 11 elementary buildings, Supt. Paul H. Blair said today.

For first graders, it will be a half-holiday with some classes dismissed in the forenoon and others in the afternoon, depending on the time the registration is held.

A parent must accompany the child to school and must submit proof of immunization against polio, tetanus, whooping cough, smallpox and diphtheria and a birth record.

Children must be 6 on or before Sept. 15 to be enrolled, Blair emphasized.

Here are the schools and the registration times: Glenmoor, 9:11-30 a. m.; Garfield, 1:30 p. m.; Horace Mann, 1:30 p. m.; Klondyke, 1:15-3:15 p. m.; LaCroft, 1:30-3:30 p. m.; Lincoln, 1:15-3:15 p. m.; McKinley, 1:15-3:15 p. m.; Neville, 9:30 - 11:30 a. m.; Pleasant Heights, 9:15 - 11:30; Taft, 9-11:30 a. m., and Westgate, 1:30-3 p. m.

Principal Due In Command Appearance At White House

NEW YORK (AP) — A 49-year-old Harlem school principal makes her first command appearance at the White House today and her main concern is how she'll look in a big, cream-colored hat.

"I was so busy last night doing one thing and another in preparation for my trip to see Mrs. Johnson that I never did get around to having my hair done," confessed Kate Tuchman.

"So, the only thing left to do was wash my hair and tuck it under a big hat."

Mrs. Tuchman was chosen as guest of honor at the fourth in a series of informal luncheons for "women-doers" held by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Guests usually include about a dozen professional women.

Mrs. Tuchman said she was invited to the luncheon three weeks ago.

"But I didn't learn until last week that I was expected to make a speech to the group," she said. "Even then I wasn't nervous. As I told my husband, why get nervous. I'm a big girl now."

But, she added: "My father, who came here from the old country where things were a little different just sits and looks at me in awe since I received the invitation."

"And all the other excitement of my friends and other relatives finally rubbed off onto me and now I find myself a little nervous about it."

At first, she said, she thought she was making the appearance as a private citizen.

Plato was Aristotle's teacher.

East Junior High Lunch Survey Due

The Board of Education Monday night asked that a new survey be made to determine the feasibility of a lunchroom program for East Junior High School students.

The subject was introduced when Harry D. McConville, president, reported the question was raised when he spoke to American Legion Post 374 on renewal of two levies at the special election next Tuesday. Other board members also said they have received similar questions.

Supt. Paul H. Blair said a couple of surveys were made several years ago and they showed less than 60 pupils would participate. The cost of a cafeteria program would be prohibitive for so few, he said. Most students go home for lunch, he said.

John R. Woormer, who also is president of the parent-teacher group at nearby Horace Mann School, suggested a new survey and also inquired if the Horace Mann students could be included.

About half of East Junior's approximately 400 students would have to participate to make the program feasible, Blair estimated. He pointed out the cafeteria at Westgate feeds as high as 1,100 daily.

Any lunch program must be self-supporting and the cost of the equipment would be expensive although part of the cost might be reimbursed by the government, he continued.

Westgate School Choirs Schedule Concert Friday

The eighth and ninth grade choirs of Westgate School will present their spring concert Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the school auditorium. LeRoy Pogemiller, director, will be in charge.

A highlight will be the selection, "Let Us Praise Him" (Eberlin), by the instrumental ensemble comprised of Karen Simpson and Debbie Banfield, flutes, and Janice Betteridge and Pam Mackall, clarinets.

Selections by the combined choirs will consist of "Waters Ripple and Flow" (Czech-Slovak); "El Yivneh Hagali" (Chajes), and "Hallelujah" (Beethoven).

Numbers by Choir 8 will include "Sheep May Safely Graze" (Bach); "To Music" (Schubert); "Tender Music All Inviting" (Schubert); "Sanctus and Hosanna" (Mozart), and the Four Canons — "Hark! The Bell is Ringing" "Oh, My Love," "Hear Thou My Prayer," and "Adieu, Sweet Amaryl-lis."

Choir 9 will present four numbers: "Psalm 9" (Pogemiller); "Blessed Jesu" (Dvorak); "150th Psalm" (Franck), and "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" (Brahms).

Accompanists are Nancy Sturgeon, Aileen Silverman and Marvann Wooley, eighth graders, and Mary Cartwright, Cathy Duffy and Cathy Stover, ninth graders.

County To Lease New Relief And Food Storage Quarters

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners said today the west half of the O. S. Hill Garage will be rented for the new relief offices and surplus foods storage.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, said it is hoped that the office can be modernized and partitioned and painted by June for the transfer.

The State Welfare Department, through Richard Woods, district deputy director, approved leasing of the firm's former office, parts and paint room for $300 per month. This will include a parking area across the alley, which is now a used car lot.

The foods will be stored in the rear of the building with ample space for loading and unloading and distribution, commissioners said.

The welfare department's present offices are on the floor above the Nichols store at 123 S. Market St. The commissioners now pay $75 a month to Mrs. Lillian Greensberg of Warrensville Heights for the office space and $110 for surplus foods storage for E. Chestnut St. property belonging to Edward Heim. The new location will provide about 6,000 square feet of floor space, which will almost triple the present office and surplus foods space. There are seven persons in one office at the present location, Bycroft said. The new offices will provide private conference rooms for most of the employees when consulting with relief cases.

The state ordered the move because it will pay most of the rent. The state pays $100 for the surplus foods warehouse and about two-thirds of the balance of $200. Several other locations were inspected but the Hill garage provides a one-floor setup directly off the street, with no steps as now required.

Under present plans, the following offices will be moved to the new location when completed:

General relief, aid to blind, aid for disabled, dependent children, dependent children of unemployed, child welfare, (crippled-retarded, foster home, adoption) receiving home, work relief and surplus foods.

Coming Attractions Fall Flat

At age 8, my friends and I used to applaud everything that came onto the movie screen, from the main feature ("Charlie Chan Goes to Wichita Falls") to the color short ("The Wonderland of Quebec") to the cartoons and coming attractions. Especially the coming attractions. To a ripe fanfare of trumpets, heavy silver letters would shimmer onto the screen: "PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS."

Then, to a second fanfare quickly flattening, like a wind-up phonograph losing steam: "SATURDAY, SUNDAY, MONDAY."

WE WOULD BE treated to a closeup of a beaded curtain as an ominous theme came drumming into our ears. A stentorian voice would intone: "Woman of mystery! Woman of deceit! Woman of desire! Woman of destruction!—of death! —perhaps of murder!"

And the fellow's words of warning were slapped onto the screen as he said them.

Suddenly, as the trumpets howled, a woman's face was thrust through the strings of beads. Holy cats! It was Kay Francis, and all done up to look like Lady Dracula or Cleopatra or someone!

Then there would be short, stabbing scenes of Love, pursuit, confrontation, violence, murder and — throughout the whole thing—the exclamations slapped across the image. You'll jump! You'll scream!

WELL, AFTER THAT, the picture we had come to see was a terrible anticlimax—for the first few minutes at least—for there is something about coming attractions that reaches out from the bit screen and grabs a fellow by the throat.

They haven't changed over the years, either. (Movies today, of course, have an obligatory scene where all the actors walk about without their clothes on, and another scene in which they utter wicked Anglo-Saxonisms, and these of course show up in the trailer, to the delectation of our flaming youths of 6 and 7.)

TELEVISION has its coming attractions, too, though I'm not talking about those plugs for "Dr. Kildare" at station-break time all Thursday morning and afternoon. I mean a show like last Wednesday night's "Opening Night at the World's Fair."

Delegates At Stake In Primary

Lodge, Goldwater Battle In Massachusetts Voting

BOSTON (AP) — The Lodge and Goldwater forces are battling it out today for delegates in the Massachusetts presidential primary.

Rival slates are on the Republican ballot for delegate-at-large and also in 10 of the 12 congressional districts.

Slates in two of the congressional districts are running as pledged to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. However, under Massachusetts law, pledges are not finally binding on delegates to the national political conventions.

Complete slates were filed by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R. Mass., and GOP National Committeeman Richard F. Treadway, both for delegate-at-large and in the 12 districts.

They are unpledged but Saltonstall has said they will favor Henry Cabot Lodge if he becomes a candidate for president.

Lodge, a former U.S. senator and ambassador to the United Nations, now is ambassador to Viet Nam.

A slate of candidates for delegate-at-large was filed by Jack E. Molesworth, a member of the GOP State Committee and a Goldwater adherent.

Ten district slates were drawn up by Lloyd Waring, one of the organizers of a draft Goldwater movement in Massachusetts.

Regardless of the outcome in the delegate contests, Lodge is expected to be the front runner as a favorite son in the presidential preference write-in on the Republican ballot. The preference write-in is not binding on the delegates.

On the Democratic side, President Johnson is expected to be the winner of the preference poll.

FBI Sounds Alert For Fugitive, 26

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joseph Francis Bryan Jr., on the FBI's ten most wanted fugitives list, may be in the area of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, the FBI says.

Bryan, a former mental patient who has a record of alleged sex offenses with young boys, is wanted in the kidnapping of a 10-year-old South Carolina boy. The boy was abducted Feb. 27 and his body was found March 31 in Florida. Bryan, 26, is white, 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches tall, weighs 135 - 140 pounds, has a slender build, medium complexion, light brown hair and blue eyes and scars over his left eye and on the back of his right hand, the FBI said.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Bedtime Tragedy Goes On And On

How delightful to see and hear your child from 6 to 12 say to the rest of the family, on his own accord, at 8, 9 or 10 o'clock, "It's my bedtime, good-night." An occasional child does just this. You may have seen this happen when you were a guest in someone's home. But Dr. Garry Myers most children today don't have such a gracious and self-supervised way of going to bed. Imagine the millions of children who will be the center of a tragic scene tonight at bedtime.

The ordeal may last for 20 minutes or an hour or more, when irritations between the child and a parent or both parents, may gradually rise, until in rage the youngster finally goes to bed, leaving an angry mother and father behind.

ONE PARENT may have said to the child at what was supposed to be his bedtime, or several minutes later, "Time to go to bed." This reminder may then have been in a moderate tone.

The youngster may have made no response at all in words or action. He may have found added interest in a TV program, in a comic page or book, or in some other matter.

After several more minutes he (or she) may have heard another reminder in louder, angrier tones. Answering in kind, he may have started to argue or sharply retort, "Just a minute." Many a parent reading this column now could supply the lines for the later scenes.

Twenty minutes or half an hour after this youngster has finally gone off to bed very late and the parents have serenely settled down to enjoy the rest of the evening, he may be back again, on his way to the kitchen for a snack. This may cause another angry exchange between him and his parents.

Lucky if this youngster is in bed ready to sleep an hour or two past his regular bedtime.

Daily Pattern

SIZES 12-20

SO THE BEDTIME tragedy goes on tonight, tomorrow night, every night indefinitely.

It's not so much the loss of his sleep that matters most, but the emotional ordeal shared by him and his parents. If such emotional trials continue, all of the family might have been far better off if the boy had stayed up about as late as he wished.

But parents need not make this choice of the "lesser of two evils." The youngster does need the sleep provided by a regular bedtime schedule. Such problems can be prevented if, in earlier years, the child is effectively disciplined to conform reasonably well to family regulations, by parents who specifically tell the youngster what to do and expect to be obeyed.

Now suppose you are a parent of the child, say from 6 to 12, who chronically dawdles at bedtime. Make it clear to him what his regular reasonable bedtime is, not only for tonight but for every night for the next several months.

Court Increases Bond In Traffic Violations

Because of the increasing number of motorists who forfeit bonds rather than appear in court, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff announced today a $15 increase in bonds for motorists accused of speeding.

Effective immediately, the judge instructed city police and the State Highway Patrol to require bonds of $32.50 for speeding. That includes $25 for appearance and $7.50 for court costs.

Previously, motorists had to post $10 for appearance plus the $7.50 for costs.

Judge Chertoff emphasized, however, the bonds are for a motorist's appearance. If he fails to appear, the bond can be forfeited and a bench warrant ordered for the motorist's arrest.

Parent Program Set Before School Clinic

Robert R. Wagoner, principal of the South Side Elementary School, said a program for parents of children attending the pre-school clinic at the elementary school at Hookstown will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. The clinic will be May 6.

Mrs. Ruth Robertson, Miss Cora Mae Swearingen and Mrs. Jane Denny will speak on the reading program given to the first-level students. Wagoner and Mrs. Lois Frasier, school nurse, will also speak.

All parents of children who will be 6 on or before Jan. 31, and who plan to enter their children in school this fall, are urged to attend the meeting.

Two Boys Rescued

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—City firemen rescued two boys, aged 10 and 12, who were trapped on the edge of a Mahoning River dam after slipping down an embankment. An Indiana woman riding through the city with her husband in a car heard the boys' cries for help Monday and called firemen.

Eric (Red) Tipton is in his seventh season at West Point as Army baseball coach.

Enforced By Administrator

Major Cigarette Firms Agree On New Ad Code

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's cigarette manufacturers are putting their $250-million annual advertising program into the hands of an administrator to enforce a new code banning appeals aimed at teenagers.

The administrator, to be named shortly, will be empowered to fine a code violator up to $100,000. He will be given "complete and final authority" on all cigarette advertising, the nine companies which account for more than 99 per cent of the cigarettes made in the United States announced Monday.

Among advertising appeals banned by the companies' new code are:

—Testimonials by athletic heroes, famous entertainers, or other persons who would have a special attraction to those under 21 years of age.

—Suggestions that cigarette smoking is essential to social prominence, distinction, success or sexual attraction.

—Claims with respect to health because of the presence of a filter, unless the claim is based on valid scientific data as determined by the administrator.

All cigarette advertising must be cleared by the administrator, whose office shall be in New York.

The code bars ads aimed directly at persons under 21, and forbids distribution of free sample cigarettes and promotion of cigarette smoking on college campuses.

Advertising models must be at least 25 years old and look that age. There is a ban on persons "smoking in an exaggerated manner."

The industry acted 3½ months after the report by the U.S. surgeon general which linked cigarette smoking with cancer.

The code needs approval by the Justice Department to comply with antitrust laws, the announcement said.

Gets Life In Pen

CLEVELAND (AP)—William F. Hunt, 45, pleaded guilty Monday to second-degree murder in the Christmas Eve slaying of his estranged wife and was sentenced to life in Ohio Penitentiary.

Man Receives Term

In Hospital For Insane

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Elbert Rush, 35, of Lorain, has been given an indefinite term in Lima State Hospital for the criminal insane in connection with the fatal shooting last January of a deputy sheriff. Common Pleas Court Judge John D. Pincura said Monday that Rush would be returned to stand trial if his sanity is restored.

Rush, under indictment for first-degree murder, is accused of shooting deputy John Palermo, who went to Rush's house to take him into custody on a sanctuary warrant.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 16-year-old son is going with a lovely girl who is 15. She is a refined, intelligent person and popular with both students and faculty. The problem is her parents' peculiar idea of discipline.

The girl can accept one date a week, either on Friday or Saturday night. She must be at home by 12:30 a.m. Her parents are usually in bed by the time she gets home but she must knock on their bedroom door and announce that she is there.

Then — and this is what baffles us, Ann — she may entertain her date as late as she wishes.

Last night our son got home from her place at 4:30 a.m. We don't think this is right. Would it be proper for my husband to call the girl's father and ask him to please send the boy home by 1 o'clock? Or should we stay out of it and let the boy use his own judgment? — OVER A BARREL.

Dear Barrels: You HAVE been letting your son use his own judgment and it's terrible.

It's shocking that so many parents of boys feel the girl's parents should make all the rules.

Your son is a minor and you are responsible for him. Insist that he is at home by 1:15. This hour allows plenty of time for fond farewells.

Ex-Wife's Gift

Dear Ann: For Christmas my husband's ex-wife left a gift for him under our tree. It was a half dozen boxer-type shorts and a half dozen undershirts.

I suggested to Ellis that he return the gift because it was too personal. To make the point, I asked him how he'd like it if another man gave me a party and bra set for Christmas. He said I was out of my cotton-pickin' mind and that it was not the same thing.

We've been arguing about the shirts and shorts since December and he still refuses to see it my way. Please settle this before July, because Ellis has a birthday coming up and she might do the same thing again. — JANE.

Dear Jane: Sorry, Doll, but I think you're making a whale out of a minnow. Men's shorts and undershirts are not in the same category as women's lingerie.

Granted, this was not the most tasteful gift in the whole wide world, but it was practical. It certainly isn't worth five months' debate. Talk about something else.

Ugly Duckling

Dear Ann: I'm a college girl who lives with my brother and his wife. I'm deeply concerned about my brother's tyrannical attitude toward his children.

He is very strict with his sons, which is all right, but it is heartbreaking the way he picks on the middle boy during supper and then forces the child to eat.

Rickey is only 7. He is not as bright as his older brother, nor as cute as his younger brother. In addition to his other problems, he must wear thick glasses and he has a hearing problem.

Rickey doesn't have as big an appetite as his brothers but his father insists that he clean his plate. Every night there's a battle. My heart aches for the boy.

Will you say something in your column about forcing children to eat? — GUEST IN THE HOUSE.

Dear Guest: No person (regardless of age) should be forced to eat at any time, for any reason. The stomach is not prepared to receive food when a person is emotionally upset. Children who are forced to clean their plates sometimes develop stomach trouble which can plague them for the rest of their lives.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nurse Needs Lift From Disenchantment

When there is nothing especially rewarding at certain periods in life, it is easy to get in the doldrums. This has happened to a young woman in nurses' training. She writes:

"I'm the girl from New England who helped once before. When I was in high school you encouraged me to become my best self. I need help again!"

"A year and a half ago when I entered nursing school, I was the picture of radiant health. I had good food and exercise habits. Being away from home, I've been torn by the many ways of life around me. Food here is a way of social life. Every time I visit the home of friends I must be fed something!"

"SLOWLY I've slipped. My complexion is rough and I have pimples. My clothes fit tightly because I'm carrying 10 to 15 pounds of extra weight. I hardly ever do exercises. I'm a compulsive eater. I'm often moody and forget to smile."

"I want to start again. I have the idea I may like to become a nutrition expert, then perhaps I could teach nursing students and they in turn could teach their patients. Then maybe I could forget myself and, in so doing, find myself. What nutrition books would you suggest? Once again, please help!"

You are a young woman who at the moment is disenchanted with life. Being lonely and feeling insecure away from family life, you eat for temporary solace. But you are not a compulsive eater. You have not let your weight problem get very far out of hand.

Now, how to pull out of the doldrums: Choose to be happy! Remember that the stumbling block to happiness is in your own mind. You need not go around with a perpetual smile on your face; that would be a strain. What you want is to feel joyous in your heart. When you go to sleep tonight, set the mood for your morning awakening. You have the right idea in setting your sights on getting your diploma first. You have chosen a wonderful profession. As a nurse you will have a rich, full, rewarding life. If later you want to combine nutrition with your nursing, fine. But keep your eye on your main goal first.

WHAT BOOKS to read? Go to the library and search for inspirational reading. Therein you can find a replenishing philosophy. A book condensation "charged with power" is in the April Reader's Digest: "The Challenge of Confident Living," by Robert O'Brien. It is based on new trends in psychological thinking.

Why not adventure in picturing yourself in the mirror of your mind the way you want to become? Get a feeling of standing on tiptoe to reach out for all that makes life rewarding. Life is exciting and wonderful when you decide to live each day the very best you know how to live it.

10 Injured As Twisters Lash South

By The Associated Press
Sections of the Deep South were raked by small tornadoes and high winds Monday, injuring at least 10 persons. The Plains states were hit by thick snow and winds up to 81 miles an hour.

An overabundance of moisture combined with a high-level cold front to cause the unstable air over the Southeast.

Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida bore the brunt of Monday's storms, including heavy rains which dumped more water into the already swollen streams in the region. At Appalachicola, Fla., 4.46 inches of rain fell in six hours.

Flash flooding was reported along tributaries of the Chattahoochee and Flint rivers as an estimated 4.5 inches of rain fell in parts of eastern Alabama and western Georgia in a 24-hour period.

Hailstones the size of golf balls fell on Atlantic Ocean beach communities near Jacksonville, Fla. The Weather Bureau said the hail measured up to one and one-half inches in diameter.

Five persons were injured at Moss Point, Miss., when high winds ripped carports from homes and uprooted large trees. A woman and two children were injured near Mobile, Ala., when a twister demolished a frame house.

A tornado that struck the northwestern Florida community of Little Whitewater resulted in injuries for two housewives. Other twisters did property damage at Pensacola and Quincy, Fla.; Hawkinsville and Unadilla, Ga.

The rainfall at Pensacola totaled 8.62 inches in less than 48 hours and brought on excessive flooding. An emergency power system had to be put in service at a hospital after normal power lines were knocked out by a flooded basement.

The snowstorm in the Plains states blanketed the town of Martin, S.D., with 6 to 8 inches. The high winds were recorded in the central part of Nebraska.

The American look in international hotels emerged in 1946 when President Harry Truman and the State Department became concerned about the economics of Latin American countries. They agreed that an increasing flow of dollar-bearing tourists would help — if there were adequate hotels to accommodate them.

Drysdale Keeps Dodgers On Win Track In 6-0 Shutout

Koufax To Return Later This Week

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale, the last healthy member of Los Angeles' Big Four, has given the Dodgers' beleaguered pitching staff its most impressive streak since putting together three consecutive injuries.

Taking over where Phil Ortega left off Sunday, Drysdale pitched the Dodgers' second straight shutout Monday night, winning his first game in four starts by limiting Houston to six hits in a 6-0 victory built on a three-homer salvo.

Only one other game was scheduled in either league. In that, Washington whipped the Los Angeles Angels 6-2.

Drysdale's performance and home runs by Frank Howard, Ron Fairly and Willie Davis—the Dodgers had collected only eight homers in 12 previous games—topped off a heartening day for Manager Walt Alston.

Possibly the most important piece of news came from Los Angeles, where Sandy Koufax has been undergoing treatment for a muscle strain in his left

Sectional Baseball Games Slated Today

The Sectional Class AA Baseball Tournament at Steubenville Monday was rained out with the two games slated today. East Liverpool is scheduled to meet Steubenville Central at 4:30 on the Bellevue Field while Steubenville Big Red and Toronto will clash on the Pleasant Heights diamond. The winners will meet Wednesday for the championship.

arm. Dr. Robert Kerlan reported Koufax might be given permission to throw on the sidelines this weekend.

Besides Koufax, the Dodgers staff has been depleted by injuries to Johnny Podres and relief specialist Ron Perranoski while the attack has lost the services of two-time batting champion Tommy Davis. Nevertheless, Alston said the Dodgers' poor start could not simply be traced to injuries.

"The injuries have hurt us," he said, "but the team was not playing up to par before anyone got hurt. Yes, we're crippled but that isn't all the reason for our troubles."

"What we've got to do is win as many as we can while we're crippled," he continued, "then move when we get all the injured men back. There is nothing wrong with the morale of this team right now that a couple of good wins and some base hits won't cure."

Howard and Fairly took care of the base hits. Each hit a two-run homer and also collected two singles. Willie Davis added a solo homer and a fine running catch that preserved Drysdale's shutout. With two men on and two out in the seventh, pinch hitter Al Spangler lashed a curling drive to left center that Davis speared with a final lunge after a long run.

Two-run singles by Mike Brumley and Don Zimmer gave the Senators four runs in the fourth inning off Angels starter Ken McBride. Fred Valentine drove in the other two tallies, one with his first major league homer.

Patton Opens Bid For 4th Title In Row

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Billy Joe Patton, off to a flying start in his bid for a fourth North and South Golf Amateur Championship and third in a row, met Peter Zaccagnino of Hartford, Conn., today in the lead-off contest of the 32-match second round.

Patton, 42-year-old Morganton, N.C., lumberman and veteran of Walker Cup play, was on the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club only two hours Monday as he opened with a 7 and 5 victory over Elliott Phillips of New Albany, Ind.

Patton did not lose a hole and was three under par in what he described as "the best round I have played in a long, long time."

There were some surprises but most of the top-notchers survived. Among the most impressive was Walker Cup veteran and former North and South champion Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N.C. He was three under par in a 5 and 4 victory over Richard Babbitt of Rockford, Ill.

Patton and Smith are in the upper half of the draw and could collide in the semifinals Friday if they continue to play as well as they did in the first round.

Hill Rise Favored In Field Of 7 Today For Kentucky Derby Prep

By KELSO STURGEON

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—If Cecil Carmine's Dandy K. wins the Kentucky Derby, Carmine can go into business with Jack Price of Carry Back fame showing the big names of racing how it's done.

Just about everything, from the breeding to the way Dandy K. breaks from the starting gate, is contrary to the traditions of racing. And, just about everything Jack Price did with Carry Back raised the eyebrows of the industry's diehards.

Dandy K., whose stretch running is similar to that of Carry Back's, has won four of his last seven races—including the Fountain of Youth Stakes—and will be a big threat in the Derby if the pace is fast.

The colt was on the sidelines today as the $15,000-added Derby Trial Stakes held the spotlight at Churchill Downs.

The one-mile trial—the last prep for the Derby—attracted a field of seven, headed by Run-for-the-Roses favorite Hill Rise. The track was expected to be sloppy, giving Hill Rise his first race in the mud.

Dandy K. had his last race in preparation for the Derby Saturday in the seven-furlong Stepping Stone Purse and finished a fast-closing third behind Mr. Brick and The Scoundrel after stumbling and nearly falling down as he left the starting gate.

"We got Dandy K. by breeding the best we had to the best we could afford—and to me that's just as good as breeding what's supposed to be the best to the best," Carmine said Monday.

Dandy K. is a son of Chris K., who commands a stud fee of $150.

The colt's dam is Speed Trust, one of two broodmares in Carmine's stable at Lexington.

R. E. (Red) Wingfield, who trains Dandy K., said he believes the colt "has a real good chance in the Derby. If the pace is fast, we should give them a real battle when they start running in that stretch."

Today's trial field was rounded out by Roman Brother, Clem Pac, He's a Gem, Mr. Moonlight, Grand Garcon and Rob-air. An impressive win by Hill Rise could send most of those in the trial looking for cover.

ROMAN BROTHER is shown having a bail of hay after morning workout at Churchill Downs Monday. Roman Brother will compete in today's Derby Trial and the Kentucky Derby on Saturday. (UPI Telephoto)

Gridder Passes Up Champs For Skins, Medical School

WASHINGTON (AP) — Not many college football players would pass up a chance to play with a championship professional team.

But Dick Drummond did, and Monday the National Football League champion Chicago Bears swapped Drummond to the Washington Redskins for a draft choice.

The reason the 6-foot-1, 205-pound halfback spurned the champs: He didn't want to leave medical school at George Washington University in Washington.

A Washington native, Drummond has had his eye on medical school ever since he was a local high school star.

He strayed to the University of Iowa as a freshman, but soon came back home to enroll at George Washington.

"When I went to Chicago, it became quite clear that I would not be able to attend GW medical school and play for the Bears," Drummond said, and added:

"The Bears wanted me to transfer to a medical school in the Chicago area, but I felt that when I was accepted last year as one of the 100 new students in the GW medical school I was committed to continue there. Also, the school went out of its way to make it possible for me to play football last fall."

Drummond at first planned to skip his senior year of football after he was admitted to medical school, but officials permitted him to take a laboratory course in summer school in order to clear enough time from his fall schedule for football practice.

"I love both medical school and football and would like to do both," Drummond said. The husky halfback combined the two very neatly last season, rolling up 602 yards in 114 carries.

Celtics Lose Loscutt, Ramsey To Retirement

BOSTON (AP) — "Maybe it sounds funny because I'm colored and you're white," said K. C. Jones turning to Frank Ramsey and Jim Loscutt "but the Celtics are a family. I feel your losses deeply."

In the midst of celebrating an unprecedented sixth straight National Basketball Association title Monday night, Boston players found themselves saying farewells again. The Celtics wrapped up the playoff crown by beating San Francisco 105-99 Sunday night.

There had been the departure of past notables Ed Macauley and Bill Sharman, then last year, Bob Cousy. Now co-Capt. Ramsey and Loscutt have retired. Clyde Lovellette and Johnny McCarthy will not likely return.

Willie Naulls will be welcome but may choose dental studies, instead.

"I'm tremendously proud of this team," said owner Walter Brown. "I don't believe any of us will ever live to see another professional team win six consecutive world championships. Only one club has a chance—these same Celtics."

"I believe this is our best club. Maybe it didn't have the best personnel but it was the best team."

"I've had many thrills," said Coach Red Auerbach. "But this year we all felt we really did the job."

"I've grown very attached to Ramsey and Loscutt in my years with the team," said playmaker K. C. Jones. "We have very different personalities but their retirements are like losing someone very close."

"I love 'em both. Ramsey, variously known as 'Mr. Clutch' and 'the Kentucky Colonel,' drawled his way through some wisecracks until it came time to say goodbye. 'Basketball has come a long way in Boston,' said Ramsey haltingly. 'It's very difficult to leave. We've made a lot of friends.'

"When you finally say it's time to quit you have a lot of misgivings," he added choking back the tears. "You wonder if you've really played too long or not long enough."

"If you ever come down to Kentucky, be sure and look us up, hear?"

As Ramsey sat down, his face buried in a handkerchief, the banquet hall rang with a standing ovation.

"I've always hoped there's some semblance of a chance Ramsey might come back," said Auerbach. "Very few people in the history of sports have been as loyal to an organization as Ramsey."

"Of all the pros who ever entered the NBA, Ramsey came in more ready to play than any. He never was a rookie."

U.S. Cagers Lose Three To Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Is U.S. Olympic basketball supremacy threatened at last?

It could be. An American squad with five members of the 1964 Olympic team lost three straight to the Soviet national team here, despite some fine college players, seven men over 6-6 and four teammates from the AAU championship club.

"We should have risen to the challenge here — there's no alibi," said Cliff Buck of the AAU, head of the team.

He said his team "hasn't played good ball." And he said the Russians are much better than they were three years ago when an American team won eight straight.

But, he said, "I feel we can win the championship at the Tokyo Olympics." He said the Americans will have a stronger team at Tokyo, with more depth and more experience of playing together.

Buck said in a telephone interview from Kiev that one of the problems has been that the U.S. team has not played together long enough.

Writer Brosnan Will Try Radio

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Brosnan, a writer who is now going to take a fling at broadcasting, hasn't abandoned hope of returning to baseball, but says he is beginning to feel like an expitcher.

Brosnan was hired by the American Broadcasting Co. Monday to do two five-minute spot shows each Saturday and Sunday on a radio network broadcast.

Along with his writing, which currently includes six magazine articles and a book which must be finished by May 15, the scholarly looking right-handed relief specialist is a busy man, but not too busy to get back in baseball.

"I don't believe my pitching record last year indicated I had lost my effectiveness," Brosnan said. "Maybe the White Sox felt I was expendable but I certainly feel other clubs who admittedly need pitching might at least have contacted me."

Brosnan, 32, was given his unconditional release by the Chicago White Sox when all the other major league clubs waived on him at the ridiculous price of $1.

Brosnan tried to land a job with other clubs and even advertised for a baseball job, but found no takers.

"I've been waiting for some one to contact me but I've heard from no one," he said. "Apparently the only people who think I can still pitch are the fans, newspaper columnists and radio and television commentators."

Brosnan said he couldn't conceive of a conspiracy to keep him out of baseball.

"That would mean 20 clubs would have to agree on the matter and usually it's difficult to get five clubs to agree on something," he said.

Brosnan admitted his desire to pitch and write at the same time might be a drawback to landing a job, but he added: "I read where Casey Stengel says he needs pitching help but I haven't heard a word from the New York Mets."

Holdout Torre Leads Braves With .366 Avg.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' Joe Torre appears on the way to adding a little proof to his claim that baseball's spring training is too long, at least for him.

The 23-year-old catcher and first baseman started to make his point by holding out for three weeks in a salary dispute.

He has added proof by compiling a .366 batting average in the young season. His mark tops the Milwaukee regulars. He is second among the Braves in home runs with two and is third in runs driven in with seven.

At this stage of the 1963 season, Torre had a .315 plate average and finished the season with a .293 mark.

"I feel that two weeks of getting into shape and then playing exhibition games is enough to get a player ready for the season," said Torre Monday as the Braves were idle.

"Maybe it's because I'm

5 WVU Baseball Players Injured In Car Accident

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The West Virginia University baseball team was minus five players today going into a Southern Conference doubleheader with the Richmond Spiders.
Three WVU squad members, coach Steve Harrick and Dave Young, an assistant publicity director at WVU, were injured Monday when their station wagon collided with another car on W. Va. 73, about 10 miles east of Morgantown, W. Va.
Jim Willetts, a reserve first baseman, was seriously injured. An attending physician, Dr. J. J. Lawless, said Willetts suffered a dislocated neck bone and is partially paralyzed in the lower part of the body.
Lawless said Chester Wright, a starting pitcher for the Mountaineers, received a fractured right wrist, while Harrick, Young and Jeff O'Neil, a second baseman, were treated for cuts and bruises.
Two other players riding in the WVU station wagon, Chuck Kinder of St. Albans, W. Va. and Charles Wallace of Odd, W. Va., escaped injury but were not permitted to make the road trip.
The driver of the other vehicle was listed as Earl Willoughby, 29, of Richmond, Inc. Willoughby was treated for minor injuries and released.
Investigating officers said Willoughby lost control of his car on a curve and swerved into the path of the vehicle carrying the West Virginia players.
The Mountaineers, undefeated in 15 games, and boasting an 8-0 conference mark, were scheduled to use John Radosevich and Vaughn Kovach on the mound against the Spiders.

Presbyterians Slate Stronger Rights Policy

MONTREAL, N.C. (AP) — Southern Presbyterians have begun implementing a stronger civil rights policy by ordering all-white presbyteries in seven Southern states to absorb three all-Negro presbyteries.
A proposal to withdraw from the National Council of Churches, which plans to train youths for civil rights work in the Mississippi Delta this summer, was defeated by the denomination's 104th General Assembly.
Conservative ministers protested Monday's order by the assembly to integrate Negro and white presbyteries, or judicial districts.
The order affects presbyteries in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Louisiana. The area has 43 Negro churches with a membership of 2,560.
The church has 937,000 members in 13 states in the Southeast and Southwest.
"This is the type of coercion that will put our churches in the area in a tailspin," said the Rev. John Miller of Jackson, Miss.
"It's been constitutional to have segregated presbyteries all these years," he said. "Why the push now?"

Two Breweries, Union Announce Pact Agreement

CLEVELAND (AP) — The AFL-CIO Brewery Workers Union and two Cleveland breweries have reached a precedent-setting agreement providing for as much as two months of paid vacations.
Wage increases also were a feature of the settlement announced Monday governing 500 production workers at the Carling Brewing Co. and 75 at the Schmidt Brewing Co.
The Carling agreement is expected to set a pattern in negotiations for 1,500 brewery workers in seven other cities.
According to Anthony Sapienza, union business agent, the improved vacation program makes workers eligible for six weeks' vacation after 20 years and four after 10 years.
The additional two weeks' vacation may be gained by exchanging 10 of the 11 paid holidays, Sapienza said. The agreement set the vacation period from Oct. 1 to March 30, considered the slow season in the brewery business.
The pact also calls for Schmidt employees to get wage increases totaling 42 1/2 cents an hour over the next four years. The main contract is for three years but provides for a 15-cent hourly hike in the fourth year to correct inequities.
Wages of Carling employees will be increased 20 cents an hour in a three-year period.

Brooklyn CORE Spokesman Gets 13-Month Term

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Goldwag, chief spokesman for the militant Brooklyn chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, has been sentenced to 13 months in jail.

Sentence was imposed by three judges in Manhattan Criminal Court Monday because Goldwag had persisted in disorderly civil rights demonstrations while on probation.

Goldwag lay on the floor after the sentence was announced. As attendants dragged him away, he shouted: "Ku Klux Klan."

The outburst led Judge Benjamin Gassman to impose an additional sentence of 30 days for contempt of court.

Goldwag, 26, is the son of a Jewish garment worker and brother of a rabbi. He studied sociology at Brooklyn College.

Goldwag was a major force in planning an auto stall-in for the opening of the New York World's Fair last Wednesday. The plan to tie up traffic flopped.

Boys Carrying Knives

LISBON — Two youthful hitchhikers, 16 and 17, are being held in Village Jail for investigation after Sgt. Kenneth McKenzie found they were carrying knives when he made a routine check in a local diner this morning.

The boys told police they reside at Baxter, W. Va., and were en route to Hammond, Ind., to visit an uncle of one of the youths. One boy said his parents did not know he was leaving home and the other said his parents "didn't care." They will be turned over to Juvenile Court for disposition.

McKenzie said he found one boy was carrying a switchblade knife and the other was carrying a 19-inch knife. Police said a motorist picked up the two on Routes 7 and 30 northwest of East Liverpool and stopped here to buy coffee.

LONDON — White collar pay averages 22 pounds 2 shillings 2 pence ($61.90) a week in Britain, the last survey by the Ministry of Labor shows. The October, 1963, figure was 4.8 per cent higher than the previous year and 22.4 per cent higher than the 1959 average.

3 Of Beaver Local Faculty Give Up Posts

The resignations of three Beaver Local teachers were accepted by the Board of Education Monday night.

They were Mrs. Polly Davis of Calcutta, Miss Nancy Curran, high school physical education instructor, and Mrs. Anna Strabala of West Point.

Board members will begin special meetings each Monday to interview applicants for executive head. Eleven have filed applications for the post from which George VanHorne has resigned.

Deadline for filing for the post was set for June 1.

In a vote of 3-2, the board authorized continuation of the policy of not permitting students to attend school in other districts except in cases of "extreme hardship." The issue arose over an athlete.

A bid for cleaning school typewriters was received unsolicited from the Leetonia Typewriter Service. Other firms will be asked to submit offers.

The Nationwide Insurance Co. informed the board the valuation of Beaver Local buildings has been reduced by the state building inspection department, and insurance rates will subsequently be lower.

The board approved the teacher salary schedule previously agreed upon by teachers and the board, contingent upon passage of the proposed 5-mill levy in the May primary election.

The school calendar for 1964-65 was approved, with classes starting Sept. 9 and ending the first week in June.

The need for more maintenance help for preparing schools for fall was taken under study by the board. Clerk Harry Greenwood was permitted to take his vacation in June.

Greenwood is to determine what personnel may want to attend a special cafeteria workshop at Kent State University in August.

The board was advised that, in the opinion of a state examiner, it may not legally pay for the expenses of the school nurse accompanying the Senior Class to New York.

Members also expressed favoring the use of the high school for the annual eighth grade recognition program May 27 because of the large size of the audience.

Docket Acquired For Court's Use

LISBON — County commissioners Monday purchased an administrator's docket for use of Probate Court from the Fred Proctor Co. of Cincinnati on its low bid of $104.50. Other bidders were:

Dayton Blank Book Co., $140; Johnson - Watson Co. of Dayton, $148.60; William Lihenthal and Sons of Cambridge, $163.50 and Herr Printing Co. of Columbus, $184.

Commissioners voted a $300 slag grant for Wayne Township and authorized payment of $43.50 to the City of Wellsville for 87 dogs destroyed during April. Judge Louis Tobin was authorized a travel allowance to attend a juvenile judge's meeting in Akron May 15. Travel allowance was authorized for seven employees of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton to attend a meeting in Cincinnati Thursday through Sunday.

Commissioners next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Quiet Vigil

Students Seek Rights Bill Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — For nine days now — and no one knows for sure how much longer — theological students of the Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic faiths have been standing in a quiet vigil at the Lincoln Memorial.

They intend to stay, 24 hours a day, until the civil rights bill is passed by Congress.

It has been a chilly, wet and undramatic demonstration — three students on a shift grouped around a black-and-white sign across the circle from the long flights of steps leading to the statue of the Great Emancipator.

Monday night, however, a rival camp was set up barely 20 feet away.

George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi party, led a half dozen of his followers in to distribute leaflets against the civil rights bill.

Briefly the two sides mingled, exchanging their literature, before police shooed off the Nazis who lacked a permit.

To present a rival vigil the Rockwell group left behind one of their party — a stiffly erect 19-year-old in a tan storm-trooper cap decorated with a swastika.

"We'll be here a long as those people are," said Robert Lloyd of Arlington, Va., a follower of Rockwell.

It was a damp night and the students stood in the mud watching as buses unloaded hundreds of tourists at the monument.

Youth Jailed In Burglaries

A Wellsville juvenile was being held at County Jail in Lisbon today on charges of breaking and entering two homes in Wellsville.

The youth was picked up in Steubenville, questioned and returned to Wellsville, all before one of the homeowners even knew his home had been burglarized.

Wellsville police received a call from Steubenville they had apprehended a youth after he purchased a large amount of clothing. The store became suspicious and notified authorities.

Under questioning, the youth said he was from Wellsville. Police here were notified. They had received the report of the first breaking and entering at the home of David Doyle of 9th St.

They learned from the youth he also burglarized the home of Dan Mason, 1714 Bucky Ave.

Nothing was taken at the Doyle home as the youth was frightened away. He obtained over $100, most of it in silver dollars, coins and old money, at the Mason home.

He entered both homes early yesterday morning.

The youth is to receive a hearing this afternoon in Juvenile Court.

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there an "easy" way to paint around locks and hinges and other such hardware on a door?

Q. How can I protect a freshly-wound hank of yarn from moths?

A. If you'll wind your yarn on a mothball, the pests will be discouraged from using it as an eating treat.

Greeks Spur Cyprus Drive On 2 Points

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek Cypriot forces renewed their drive for St. Hilarion Castle and the strategic Kyrenia Pass shortly after dawn with mortar fire on Turkish positions.

After a night of sporadic firing, Greek national guardsmen lobbed three 60mm mortar shells into gunposts near the 11th-century castle.

The tempo appeared reduced from heavy fighting Monday. A U.N. spokesman said positions seemed unchanged overnight. Greek forward elements were reported within a quarter-mile of the fortress.

A Turkish Cypriot spokesman said the Turks held the castle and that the Greeks had been driven back. There was no confirmation of the latter claim.

The offensive opened before dawn Saturday with a surprise attack that overran Turkish positions. The Greek Cypriots swept four miles forward toward the castle along the 2,500-foot-high crest of the Kyrenia Range.

A U.N. spokesman said a number of mortar shells had hit the castle, but the extent of damage to the historic structure was not known.

Greek Cypriot officers said the Turkish defenders rejected a surrender ultimatum relayed by Canadian U.N. troops.

Below the steep mountain sides, Canadian soldiers patrol the Turkish villages of Phileri, Krini and Agirda to protect inhabitants. Most Turkish families had fled.

Canadian troops also set up roadblocks on the Kyrenia highway east and north of the castle. A U.N. spokesman said their aim was to observe military movements and control other traffic into the fighting area.

"There are certain types of fighting we cannot stop," the spokesman said. "If the fighting is of such a nature that interposing yourself between the sides means you are blasted by both sides, that is of no value."

U.N. officers were reported trying to arrange a cease-fire. The twin objectives of the Greeks were the castle itself and the high point of the Nicosia - Kyrenia highway, a pass over the mountains about a mile east of the castle.

Capture of these points would remove the last important Turkish threat to the Kyrenia area, on the north coast of the island, and would isolate Turkish villages on the mountainsides.

The Turks have controlled the highway since the start of the civil war between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots last Christmas season. With the pass in their hands, the Greeks could drive south and open the rest of the road to traffic between the capital and the Kyrenia.

Utilities Board Slates Bidding

The Board of Public Utilities said today it will open bids May 14 on a year's supply of chemicals, cast iron pipe and water meters for the water department.

W. O. Schneider, chairman, said bids will be received until noon, fast time, on 200 tons of dry mixed sand and cement mixture; 250 tons of hydrate or pebble lime; 50 tons of activated charcoal; 18,000 pounds of liquid chlorine in both 150- and 2,000-pound containers, and 5,000 pounds of sodium chloride.

It also will open offers to supply 100 meters ranging in size from 1/2-inch to 4 inches and to purchase 1,000 feet of 4-inch pipe; 2,000 feet of 6-inch; 2,000 feet of 8-inch; 1,000 feet of 10-inch and 1,000 feet of 12-inch.

Economic Group Head To Quit, Johnson Says

28 At Lisbon Group's Fete

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

RESIGN: President Johnson says the head of his council of economic advisers, Walter Heller, is planning to leave government service for financial reasons.

Speaking to a task force on foreign investments in the White House garden Monday, Johnson cited Heller's case in calling for passage of legislation increasing salaries of upper-level U.S. officials.

No date was set for Heller's departure and assistant press secretary Malcolm Kilduff said Heller had told the President he would stay until after the November election.

SMOKING: The Agriculture Department's chief researcher says there is a good chance science can decrease the health hazards of smoking but he can't predict when.

"It is going to take intensive work," said Dr. B. T. Shaw in testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee, "and I couldn't predict how soon the answer may come." A transcript of his Feb. 25 testimony was made public Monday.

SUPERJET: The Defense Department has officially designated the 2,000-mile an hour All jet as an interceptor and gave it a new tag that looks more like a typographical error—the YF12A.

In February when President Johnson disclosed the jet—many of whose characteristics are still secret—he described it as an advanced experimental jet aircraft.

The Pentagon said in its announcement that the "Y" refers to prototype aircraft and "F" represents the plane's basic mission symbol "to intercept and destroy other aircraft." The rest, an Air Force spokesman said, is for bookkeeping.

Twenty-eight members and guests attended the Eagles Auxiliary's anniversary dinner Sunday at the lodge home at Lisbon. Mrs. Grace Reisinger was chairman.

An Hawaiian theme was used in table appointments. Mrs. Vera Powell won a prize. A family dinner party Sunday at the Wick Hotel honored Mrs. Myrtle Reese, who will observe her 80th birthday anniversary Tuesday.

Her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reese of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clapsaddle and Mrs. Francis Clunk, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bruey and children and Mr. and Mrs. William Burmip and children, all of Lisbon.

Group pictures were taken and the afternoon was spent socially at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reese of N. Park Pl.

Mrs. Reese resides with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Clunk, of Pendleton St.

In honor of her sister, Mrs. Robert T. Sutherland Jr. of Sandy Hook, Conn., the former Jeanne Bott, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hunter of N. Jefferson St. gave a family dinner party Sunday. Also present were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bott of Salem Rd.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Nanie McKee of N. Beaver St. and Mrs. Willis McCord of N. Market St. were Mr. and Mrs. James Frase and son, Timmy, Mr. and Mrs. David Frase and children, Mary Lee and Chris, of Louisville.

Powers Withdraws From Congress Race

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—John P. Powers of Youngstown has announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the 19th District Congressional seat now held by Rep. Michael K. Kirwan. Powers, who did very little campaigning, said he thought Kirwan should be permitted to end his career "in a blaze of glory." Kirwan is seeking renomination to an office he has held since 1937.

Last week Frank R. Franko, former mayor, withdrew from the race, leaving Robert Hagen, Trumbull County commissioner, as Kirwan's only opponent.

Junior Editors Quiz on DRYCELL BATTERY

QUESTION: Can a dry cell battery be recharged?

ANSWER: Batteries have one or more units called cells and each of these has two "electrodes" inside made of different materials. These give off the electricity and have terminals at the top to which the wires are attached. In the dry cell (upper left) the central electrode is of carbon and the outer one of zinc — this being the battery container. Batteries also contain a chemical substance called an "electrolyte" which attacks the electrodes and builds up electricity in them as it does so. In the upper battery the electrolyte is a moist paste of various chemicals. Such a battery will give out electricity as long as the materials inside go on attacking each other; but when they are used up, the battery goes dead. After this it cannot be recharged.

This is not the case with the other main kind of battery, called a secondary or storage battery. In this, such as in the battery in your family car, electricity must come into it first — it is electricity made by the electric generator of your car's engine which charges up your battery. The battery stores this power, and when you need to start your car it will send out electricity by its own chemical process. It will go dead, however, unless a generator charges it again.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask your father or mother to point out, on the instrument panel of your car, a needle or light which shows the battery either charging or discharging. Watch this as you drive and you will see how the car charges up the battery so that the battery can start the car.

Charles Milbo of Ashland, Va., wins today's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors, in care of The Review and you may win the daily prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash.

Harding Papers Opened For Use In History Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Historians and biographers for the first time now may examine the papers of Warren G. Harding, 29th president of the United States who died in office 41 years ago.

The papers were formally opened by the Ohio Historical Society Saturday at the organization's 79th annual meeting. They were donated to the Society by the Harding Memorial Association of Marion, which kept them closed after the death in 1924 of Harding's widow.

Dr. Warren Sawyer of Marion, whose grandfather was Harding's personal physician, represented the association. He said its members felt it best to keep the papers closed over the years "mostly because association members wanted to make certain they were placed in the proper hands."

Kenneth W. Duckett, curator of manuscripts for the society, said the papers not only will reveal to Americans facts about the late president himself, but also will unveil significant information concerning the nation's history.

The documents and manuscripts number more than 325,000 and fill 13 file cabinets. Nearly all are correspondence to and from Harding throughout his career as Marion newspaper editor, state legislator, U.S. senator, and president.

Duckett, who helped catalog the documents and has seen all of them, said they reveal nothing spectacular but do hold the key to some of "the so-called mysteries" of Harding's life.

County's Child Wards Show Boost In March

LISBON — The number of children in care of the County Welfare Department showed a net increase of three during March, according to the monthly report of Robert Bycroft, director.

On March 1, the department had 170 children under its care. It added five during the month and dismissed two.

Barefoot Officer, Ex-Wrestler Nab FBI Most-Wanted

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A barefoot policeman and a former college wrestler teamed up Monday to capture one of the FBI's 10 most-wanted criminals.

He is Frank Dumont, 42, convicted six times since 1936 and wanted in Pocatello, Idaho, on charges of burglary and the assault of a 14-year-old girl.

The manager of a Tucson apartment house spotted Dumont rifling through an apartment, and alerted two tenants, off-duty policemen Richard Milne and Robert Wilson.

A third tenant, Dennis Favero saw Milne race barefooted after the fleeing Dumont and joined in. Wilson had gone to get a car.

Milne caught up with Dumont and as the two battled, Favero, a University of Arizona graduate student and former Notre Dame wrestler, arrived and applied a hammerlock on Dumont.

"All right," Milne quoted Dumont as saying, "There's too many of you. I'll go peacefully."
